Director of Athletics Bill Byrne

On behalf of the Nebraska Athletic Department, and all the wonderful fans in the State of Nebraska, welcome to Memorial Stadium for today's game.

Marilyn and I continue to be impressed by our wonderful Husker fans. It is this unbelievable "Big Red" support that enables Nebraska to continue its NCAA-record sellout streak, which will extend to 239 at the end of this season.

The Athletic Department is proud of the sincere sportsmanship extended by our fans. One of the noted traditions that sets Nebraska apart from most institutions is the warm and courteous welcome visiting teams and their fans receive. Tough competition and outstanding sportsmanship are vital components of intercollegiate athletics and our goals at the University of Nebraska.

On behalf of all Nebraskans, I would like to welcome visiting teams, fans, their coaches and student-athletes who will meet the Huskers on the field today. We hope that you enjoy your visit and the competition.

Today, the wait is over.

Since the 31-21 victory over Tennessee in last season's Fiesta Bowl, Husker fans have anxiously awaited the 2000 season and this morning's season opener against San Jose State.

The top-ranked Huskers appear to be loaded for a run at their fourth national title in the past six seasons, returning 20 players with starting experience from last season's Big 12 and Fiesta Bowl champions.

Offensively, the Big Red is led by quarterback Eric Crouch, who will contend for conference and national honors this season. The junior from Omaha was the Big 12 Co-Offensive Player of the Year last season, rushing for 889 yards and 16 touchdowns and throwing for 1,269 yards and seven more scores. Crouch is one of 10 players with starting experience returning from an offense that ranked among the national leaders in both rushing and scoring offense in 1999. Crouch is joined by one of the nation's best offensive supporting casts. I-back Dan Alexander, Correll Buckhalter and Dahrran Diedrick and fullback Willie Miller all return after combining for more than 2,000 yards and 18 touchdowns a year ago. They will run behind an offensive line which averages 6-3 1/2 and 306 pounds, featuring All-America candidates Dominic Raiola and Russ Hochstein, and 1998 starter Jason Schwab, who missed all of last season because of a knee injury. If the Huskers need to throw the ball, NU returns its top three receivers from a year ago, including tight end Tracey Wistrom, who earned All-Big 12 honors in 1999, wingback Bobby Newcombe, who is capable of big plays on offense and special teams, and split end Matt Davison, NU's top receiver the last two seasons who needs just 11 receptions to move into second place on the school's receiving chart.

On defense, the Blackshirts ranked in the top six nationally in all four major categories and return five starters for new defensive coordinator Craig Bohl, who replaces longtime coordinator Charlie McBride. Much of the defensive leadership will be provided by linebacker Carlos Polk, rush end Kyle Vanden Bosch and defensive tackle Loran Kaiser. Polk, a Butkus Award candidate, leads all returnees with 83 stops last season and was among the team leaders with 12 tackles for loss and 21 quarterback hurries in 1999. Vanden Bosch, a GTE Academic All-American, will contend for conference and national honors this season, while Kaiser is a two-year starter who can stop the run and put pressure on opposing quarterbacks. Despite losing a pair of first-team All-Americans in the secondary, NU has the benefit of five players who have starting experience, including cornerbacks Keyuo Craver and Erwin Swiney, who was a starter in 1998 before missing last season because of an injury, and safeties/rovers Dion Booker, Clint Finley and Joe Walker.

Traditionally, one area of strength for the Huskers has been special teams and that should continue with both starting kickers returning. Punter Dan Hadenfeldt is back for his senior season after averaging a school record 44.98 yards per punt in 1999. A preseason All-American by several publications, Hadenfeldt, who will not play in today's game because he played in the last season's Hula Bowl, had 25 kicks downed inside the 20 last year. Sophomore Josh Brown, who will handle the punting duties this afternoon, was second on the team with 88 points, connecting on 14-of-20 field goals as a redshirt freshman. Newcombe and Walker both rank among the nation's top return specialists, while NU also blocked a school record 10 kicks in 1999.

Coach Dave Baldwin and San Jose State come to Lincoln for the first time to meet the Huskers today. Despite a 3-7 record in 1999, San Jose State has shown the ability to play giant killer, scoring 44 points in a win over Pac-10 champion Stanford on the road in 1999, before injuries led to five straight losses to end the season.

The Spartans return 35 lettermen (18 offense, 17 defense), including 13 starters (8 offense, 5 defense). Offensively, the Spartans, who use a lot of three- and four-receiver sets, are led by senior tailback Deonce Whitaker, who led the Spartans with 769 yards on 137 carries with 10

Husker Tidbits

► Husker Defensive Backs Coach George Darlington was an assistant at San Jose State from 1969-72, serving as defensive coordinator in 1971 and 1972.

► The Huskers have won 14 straight season openers, dating back to a 17-13 loss to Florida State in the 1985 season opener.

► Free safety Dion Booker (Oceanside, Calif.) is the only Husker projected starter from the state of California.

touchdowns last season. Whitaker, like Husker I-back Dan Alexander is on the Doak Walker Award watch list. Sophomore quarterback Marcus Arroyo, who is trying to replace Chris Kasteler (2,239 yards, 13 TD passes) at the controls of the Spartan offense, will also have an experienced group of receivers to throw to, including Waking Bailey and Casey LeBlanc, who each hauled in 35 receptions in 1999.

One area of concern for SJSU is on defense, which ranked near the bottom nationally in all four defensive categories. Senior middle linebacker Josh Parry is their top returnee after making 94 stops, including four tackles for loss last season.

Part 1 of Husker Century to Air on ETV This Thursday

With the kickoff of the 2000 football season, the University of Nebraska adds another chapter to a spirited tradition dating back more than a century. This month the Nebraska ETV Network and the University of Nebraska Athletic Department's HuskerVision bring you Husker Century: 1890-1940, Pioneer Spirit, airing Thursday, Sept. 7, at 7 & 8:45 p.m. CT/6 & 7:45 p.m. MT on the statewide Nebraska ETV Network.

The hour-long documentary shows how the early days of Husker football parallel the history of the state and nation – from pioneer days through the Depression – and uses vintage game films and interviews with players of the era to make history come alive. The program is narrated by Trev Alberts, sportscaster and former Husker football player.

Husker Century: 1890-1940, Pioneer Spirit repeats Tuesday, Sept. 12, at 9:40 p.m. CT/8:40 p.m. MT and Tuesday, Sept. 19, at 7 p.m. CT/6 MT on Nebraska ETV.

This Week In Husker Athletics

The fall schedule begins in earnest this week as many of NU's fall sports begin competition. Action for the soccer team began last week, while the volleyball cross country and men's golf teams began their schedules this week. The following is a list of upcoming home events over the next two weeks.

From the Desk of Harvey Perlman

I'm exceptionally proud to be given the privilege to serve this state as the Interim Chancellor of its flagship University. As a native Nebraskan and graduate of the University of Nebraska, my allegiance to the university runs deep. This is a great university with a rich history and great traditions. And my strongest desire is to continue to improve this university and build upon its successes.

You will note that the University has a number of administrative positions filled on an interim basis. This poses some challenges of course, but also presents great opportunities as we are able to select new leadership who will mold the future of the university. The positive forward momentum achieved over the past several years will not diminish, nor languish, while we are in the search process. Be assured that a cadre of capable and dedicated administrators, faculty and staff are working to ensure that the university continues to offer the highest quality education, to conduct cutting-edge research and to serve the citizens through outreach activities. The entirety of the university is stronger than its individual parts.

There is much visible evidence that this is a university making progress. You might notice that a considerable number of construction cranes are poking up about campus. Projects are under way that will significantly improve the facilities at Love Library and enhance our programs in art, education, journalism, computer science and management, chemical engineering and the humanities. The renovation of Richards Hall nears completion. The Esther Kauffman Academic Residential Center is progressing and the first class of undergraduate students to enroll in the J.D. Edwards Honors Program in Computer Science and Management began their studies Aug. 21. A new building is under construction that will link Henszlik and Mabel Lee Halls and add classrooms and offices for Teachers College. Donald F. Othmer Hall, the new home for chemical engineering, is also under construction. Planning is well along for a hazardous materials building to be placed near Hamilton Hall. And $2 million in federal funds, to be coupled with $2 million from the state, will pay for significant renovations of Hamilton Hall. Renovations proceed in the former Security Mutual Life Building, the new home for the College of Journalism and Mass Communications. And another parking garage, this one with 1,700 spaces, is under construction at 17th and R streets.

These buildings represent tremendous growth and optimism in the future.

During the next several months of transition, we will be assessing the recommendations of a number of task force reports, which were issued last spring. The Future Nebraska Task Force gives us a blueprint for the University of Nebraska-Lincoln in the year 2020. We are carefully considering its recommendations this fall. A Task Force on the Integration of the Life Sciences also suggests changes for this increasingly important academic area. Again, we are assessing recommendations. Both of these reports, by the way, can be found on the university's web site.

We also are working hard to improve our recruitment of potential students and to retain students on through graduation. This university must be first in line and the most persistent recruiter of Nebraska students. In addition, we must aggressively recruit out-of-state students. The single most important impediment to the economic development of the State of Nebraska is its lack of people. We need not apologize for our efforts to become the gateway through which a skilled workforce migrates to Nebraska. We must also intensify our efforts to retain enrolled students beyond the first year and on through graduation. There are, to be sure, some hopeful signs. Retention rates for first-year students over the last few years – when more rigorous admissions criteria were applied – are rising. The report of the Task Force on the Freshman Experience has been embraced by many of the academic units serving to enhance a student's first year experience where many of the links between the student and the University are established.

These are useful starts to addressing the retention problem, but there remains more work to do and we promise to do it.

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln is a university that aspires toward greatness. By asserting our claim to excellence, we move forward in achieving that goal.

Newcombe at Ease for Senior Campaign

By David Wilson

With both eyes fixed on nothing in particular, words of his football past stream out. Bobby Newcombe is focused, determined to answer the question – not just with any words, but the right words.

He pauses.

Both eyes shift slightly, but the stare is the same. Newcombe looks down at the paper in his hand.

"It's too bad about that ballet class. Herschel Walker took that."

Things look to be a little easier in the classroom this fall for Newcombe, an August graduate, which could translate into more time to focus on the little things on the field. In fact, his mind just might be less cluttered than it has ever been since he arrived on campus in the fall of 1997.

"I think I'll just be more at ease," said Newcombe, a senior wingback. "I'm not going to put so much concentration into it that I get stressed out over every little mistake that I make. I really think I'll just be more at ease."

As a junior last year, Newcombe started the first two games at quarterback before moving to wingback, enabling the Husker offense to take more snaps with both the Albuquerque, N.M., native and Eric Crouch on the field. A recruited quarterback, Newcombe also saw time at wingback as a true freshman in an effort to get his talent on the field.

While Crouch redshirted in 1997, Newcombe saw action in all 12 games, rushing the ball 16 times for 156 yards and a touchdown; catching seven passes for 173 yards and a touchdown; and returning 12 punts for 244 yards and one touchdown.

"When he came in here, he came in with a bang," Nebraska receiver's coach Ron Brown said. "I remember that first game we played his freshman year, you could see he had awesome ability. Obviously, we wanted to find a way to get him on the field, so we moved him to wingback. Without Bobby Newcombe, we probably would not have won the national championship in 1997."

In the spring of 1998, Newcombe earned starting quarterback duties over Crouch, but suffered a torn posterior cruciate ligament in his left knee in the Huskers' season opener. Though he returned to action two games later, Newcombe never returned to full strength his sophomore season.

He finished the year completing 50 of 79 passes (63.3 percent) for 712 yards, but did not play in Nebraska's final five games – including the Holiday Bowl. Not only was his athletic-career path altered, the season affected other facets of Newcombe's life as well.

"My entire sophomore year – that hurt me quite a bit academically," Newcombe said. "I had a lot of adversity to deal with on the football side of things, and that made things tough. But you have to deal with adversity. It builds character. It strengthens you as an individual."

Despite the adversity, Brown said, Newcombe never lost his drive to succeed.

His expectations entering his senior season, on the other hand, have changed from the expectations he put on himself when he arrived in Lincoln.

"I'm finally realizing that no matter how hard you work, or even how good you are, you're still dependent on many other factors to accomplish certain goals," Newcombe said. "But you can still be the best that you can be. That's pretty much all you can do. Sometimes, it's hard to accept that."

But wherever Newcombe has seen action on the field, success has generally followed.

He posted the third-best single-season punt-return average (20.33) as a freshman in 1997. He set a school record for total offense attempts in a game with 50 against Texas A&M as a sophomore in 1998. Already this season, he has been named a preseason All-American punt returner by the AP, and earned preseason first-team All-Big 12 wingback honors from Rivals.com.

Though his individual goals may have been hindered by injury and position changes, there's no doubt that Newcombe has succeeded at his ultimate goal of helping the Huskers win games. In the last three seasons with the help of Newcombe, NU has posted a 34-5 record.

"Bobby has been a very goal-oriented young man," Nebraska head coach Frank Solich said. "He came here with the goal of leading this team to a national championship as a quarterback. When the move to wide receiver was made, he adjusted his goals and moved forward – and he stayed very team oriented."

"That meant an awful lot to the coaches and to the other players on the team, so we feel that he has done all he can do to make things work here, not only for himself, but for the program. It is very appreciated when you have players with that kind of attitude."

But Newcombe's determination and work ethic might also be his weakness, Brown said.

"He's a very dedicated individual, and he's a very independent person," Brown said. "He's a guy that analyzes things and wants to know why. He's a guy that, I think, takes a tremendous amount of pride in wanting to do the job right."

"I would have to say that a man's greatest strength is sometimes that same man's greatest weakness – because when it's not done right, you tend to get down on yourself pretty hard. He is hard on himself. I want to see him learn how to bounce back and not get too down. He's a very good person. He's a kind person, he's a very sensitive person, and he's a very thoughtful person."

As a junior last season, wingback Bobby Newcombe caught 19 passes for 238 yards and three touchdowns.

Brown said he believes Newcombe will be able to use the additional time he's not spending in the classroom working on the little things on the football field this season.

This fall, Newcombe will likely be taking a couple of psychology classes along with a violin course and a piano course. The ballet course he had signed up for to improve his strength and balance wasn't quite the class he wanted.

"I'm going into the arts," Newcombe said. "This is definitely for me – and to entertain my family, of course."

On the field, Newcombe said he isn't putting any big expectations on his senior season. Brown said he has a hard time believing that.

Newcombe is just 27 yards short of 1,000 career passing yards and has added 471 career rushing yards, 538 punt return yards (tied for ninth at NU with teammate Joe Walker), 411 receiving yards and 34 via kickoff return. He has 1,444 career total offense yards and 15 touchdowns. His career punt-return average of 19.2 yards-per-return is better than school-record holder and 1972 Heisman winner Johnny Rodgers, who electrified Husker fans with 1,515 yards on 98 returns with seven touchdowns for a 15.46 career average – all school records.

"Bobby is a guy that sets very high goals for himself – he always has," Brown said. "He has achieved quite a few of them, and there's more he wants to achieve. That's the thing I like about him – he wants to reach for the stars and he's willing to pay the price to work for it."

"It's not like he's a guy that sits around and dreams and just kind of wishes it to be. He's a guy that's very proactive and intentional about what he's doing. I think you can learn a lot from Bobby Newcombe in terms of setting a standard of excellence, rolling up your sleeves and going after it."

Newcombe finished second in the nation in punt returns last season, averaging 18.38 yards-per-return (behind Arizona's Dennis Northcutt's 18.96). In the absence of Northcutt this season, Newcombe is the top returner in the nation in punt-return average and will likely contend for All-America honors.

At wingback last year, Newcombe scored on a 49-yard reception for the game-winning touchdown in the fourth quarter of Nebraska's 24-17 win over the Jayhawks. On the year, he totaled 333 yards of total offense and 637 all-purpose yards. He scored three by rush, three by reception and one on a punt return.

Even after moving from quarterback to wingback, Newcombe still poses a threat to pass the ball. At Texas, Newcombe completed a 33-yard pass to Matt Davison, after a lateral from Crouch, and nearly hit him again in the Big 12 Championship Game.

"We've got big plans for Bobby Newcombe this year," Brown said. "I want to see him go to another level with his game. He was a very wise young man in terms of taking care of the academic situation early on. Of course, he had the energy level and work ethic to get it done."

He's obviously a very bright guy, too.

"I really want him to work on the fine-tuning of the game – the little things where it's more than just knowing a play – it's being able to be creative, which he is, naturally, but with a sense of urgency. That's the level that I want to see him play at this year – a combination of creativity and urgency. Sometimes when you get a guy with great moves like Bobby Newcombe, they tend to be creative and sometimes lose track of the urgency. I want him to fine-tune some of the phases of the game. Just the little things."

Newcombe is eager to pick up where he left off last season – with a 60-yard punt return for a touchdown against Tennessee in the Orange Bowl. But as this athlete with loads of determination and focus stares at nothing in particular, he brakes his glare when thinking about his post-senior season future.

"I think I'll decide that when it comes," Newcombe said. "I guess I really haven't thought about it."

The University of Nebraska Department of Intercollegiate Athletics, as an integral part of the University's educational mission, is committed to a comprehensive athletics program, Dedicated to Excellence.

Bill Byrne

Director of Athletics Eighth Year

When Director of Athletics Bill Byrne came to the University of Nebraska in 1992, he had a vision. His plan was to balance the budget, provide a stable financial base to build successful programs into the next millennium, provide complete and integrated services for Husker student-athletes, improve NU's aging facilities for the benefit of student-athletes and fans, and make Nebraska the best athletic program in the nation.

Now in his eighth year at NU, Byrne continues to passionately pursue his vision.

Improving facilities to pave the way to success has been a priority. Facility upgrades were not only needed to recruit the nation's top athletes, but to provide improved fan amenities and fan safety. The 1999 season unveiled NU's biggest project yet, the $36.1 million Memorial Stadium Improvement Project, which includes much more than just 42 skyboxes and a press facility. Most impressively, the project provides a sound financial base for the future. Memorial Stadium improvements began with the addition of two HuskerVision replay boards in 1994, allowing Nebraska to become the first collegiate-owned venue to feature replay boards for its fans. Memorial Stadium was renovated to include an expanded training room, improved locker rooms, a new public address system, expanded restrooms, improved concession areas and improved seating for disabled fans. Complete waterproofing and concrete repair will continue throughout the stadium into the next decade.

Facility updates do not end with the football program. The University of Nebraska-Lincoln, the City of Lincoln and Lincoln Professional Baseball broke ground on a new $32.1 million baseball/softball complex in April. Byrne led fund-raising efforts for the complex, which will house the NU baseball and softball teams as well as a new Northern League franchise. Opening in the spring of 2001, the baseball stadium will boast a capacity of 6,000 and will feature 16 skybox suites. The softball stadium, opening during the fall of 2001, will have a capacity of 2,500.

The Bob Devaney Sports Center has received more than $7.9 million in improvements, including the addition of HuskerVision screens. The project also included improved fan amenities, better seating for disabled fans and a complete upper concourse renovation with a Hall of Honor, Husker Timeline and other exhibits commemorating a century of NU athletics.

The track and field program benefited from the $2 million Ed Weir Outdoor Track Project completed before the 2000 outdoor season. Track and field will also receive a $2.9 million indoor track renovation at the Devaney Center next year.

In 1998-99, the Abbott Sports Complex received a new press facility, which helped secure three home games in the NCAA Women's Soccer Championships in 1999. The women's rifle program also kicked off its first season with a new shooting range. In 1997-98, the NU Softball Complex received a new press box and exit plaza. The NU Coliseum received a new volleyball ready room, and new infield turf was installed at Buck Beltzer Baseball Stadium.

Over the past five years, the Athletic Ticket Office relocated to the Stadium Drive Parking Garage, along with the Huskers Authentic retail store, and the Athletic Marketing and Development offices moved to the South Stadium Office Building. Improvements and reorganization of the offices within the athletic department have helped make Nebraska more user-friendly and better utilizes Byrne's plan of "one-stop shopping" for fans and student-athletes. He also reorganized Nebraska's fund-raising efforts and started an integrated marketing and licensing program, which quickly took its place among the top five revenue-generating programs in the country. Byrne orchestrated these improvements while balancing the budget. NU had a $2.5 million deficit when Byrne arrived in 1992. While operating on a $39 million budget, the deficit is gone and the athletic program now provides more than $40 million in economic impact to the Lincoln community each year.

He has made 10 coaching hires in the last seven years, and his knack for recognizing young, charismatic talent is evident. Byrne hired Dan Kendig in 1994 for women's gymnastics (advanced to the NCAA Championships in five of the last six seasons, including a school-best fourth-place finish in 2000); women's soccer coach John Walker in 1994 (advanced to the NCAA Championships four straight seasons, including Elite Eight finishes in 1996 and 1999); Paul Sanderford for women's basketball in 1997 (earned NCAA tournament berths each of his first three seasons); Bill Straub for women's bowling in 1997 (won the national title in 1999); Dave Van Horn to lead the baseball program in 1998 (won back-to-back conference tournament titles in 1999 and 2000 and advanced to the NCAA Super Regionals in 2000); football coach Frank Solich in 1997 (guided Nebraska to a Big 12 title and No. 2 final ranking in 1999) and Karen Anthony for women's rifle in 1998 (finished third at NCAA Championships in program's second season). Volleyball coach John Cook, wrestling coach Mark Manning and men's basketball coach Barry Collier will all begin their first seasons at NU during 2000-2001.

During Byrne's tenure in Lincoln, Nebraska became only the second school in NCAA history to win three national football titles in a four-year span. NU has produced six national championships (women's bowling, volleyball, men's gymnastics and three football), 53 regular-season league titles, and 10 conference tournament titles under Byrne's leadership. He has helped increase Nebraska's conference-leading athletic program to 24 sports with the additions of women's soccer (1994), women's bowling (1997-98) and women's rifle (1998-99) and has been a strong supporter of complying with Title IX without hurting Nebraska's century-old men's programs. In the past six years, Byrne has promoted three women to senior administrative positions. Nebraska is the only school in the nation with a woman in charge of football operations and one of just a handful of Division I football schools to have a woman directing its sports information department.

Byrne has continued to make great strides in helping Nebraska improve its rank among the nation's elite, even though the Huskers entered the powerful Big 12 Conference in 1996. During the 1999-2000 season, Nebraska:

- ▶ finished in the top 20 nationally in 16 sports (football, volleyball, soccer, baseball, bowling, women's cross country, women's golf, men's gymnastics, women's gymnastics, women's indoor and outdoor track, rifle, men's and women's swimming, wrestling and softball).
- ▶ recorded its fifth consecutive top-15 finish in the Sears Directors' Cup standings with a sixth-place showing in Division I.
- ▶ won seven regular-season Big 12 championships (football, soccer, volleyball men's indoor and outdoor track and women's indoor and outdoor track) and three Big 12 tournament championships (baseball, soccer, and softball).

Byrne was hired to replace legendary coach and athletic director Bob Devaney on June 26, 1992, becoming the 11th Nebraska Director of Athletics after 10 successful years at the University of Oregon. Highly respected among his peers, Byrne was named the Central Region NACDA/Continental Athletic Director of the Year along with being recognized by the American Football Coaches Association in 1999. Byrne was vice-president and secretary-treasurer of the College Football Association and has served on the NCAA Special Committee on Marketing and Licensing and the Committee on Special Events.

Byrne is recognized as a national leader in collegiate athletics and continues to make an aggressive effort to place conference officials on key NCAA committees to represent Big 12 institutions. In 1999, he served as the chairman of the Big 12 Conference Board of Athletic Directors and has had an active voice in conference planning.

Before coming to Nebraska, Byrne became one of the youngest directors of athletics in Division I, assuming the top job at Oregon in May 1984. He established fund-raising offices in Portland and southern Oregon and set up a full-time marketing and promotions operation, which blossomed to encompass the Oregon Sports Network for statewide in-house production of Ducks games on radio and television. Byrne led the $19 million fund drive that resulted in new homes for Oregon's football team and athletic offices. He was responsible for the construction of a new press box, sky suites and total renovation of Autzen Stadium in 1991. Two years later, the facility's Hall of Champions was dedicated in Byrne's honor.

Byrne grew up in Idaho and attended Idaho State. He was the student body president and received bachelor's and master's degrees in business from Idaho State in 1967 and 1971. Before going to Oregon in 1982, he was assistant athletic director at San Diego State (1980-82), executive director of the New Mexico Lobo Club (1976-79) and director of alumni relations at Idaho State (1971-76).

Byrne's wife, Marilyn, is the dean of graduate studies in educational leadership at Doane College and earned her Ph.D. in higher education administration from NU. The Byrnes have two sons and two grandsons. Greg and Regina Byrne and their sons, Nicholas, 5, and Davis, 3, live in Junction City, Ore., where Greg is an associate athletic director at Oregon State. Bill is a vice president for Visa in its world-wide computer center located in San Mateo, Calif.

Frank Solich

Head Coach Third Year

Few college football coaches have faced a more daunting task than the one that greeted Frank Solich when he took over the Nebraska football program in 1998. After all, the Husker program had won three national titles in four seasons and posted an unprecedented 29 straight nine-win seasons.

But while his challenge was great, there was no other coach as prepared for the task as Solich, a veteran assistant in the Nebraska program. Solich is a product of the Nebraska football program that has been the model of stability, consistency and excellence in collegiate athletics for nearly 40 years. Those qualities were established by Coach Bob Devaney, then carried on for a quarter century by his successor, Tom Osborne.

That stability was the primary reason that on Dec. 10, 1997, just moments after Osborne announced his retirement, Solich was named the 26th head coach in Nebraska's 110 years of football tradition. Solich fits the Husker model for success. Just as Osborne was groomed by Devaney to be the head coach, Solich was Osborne's heir-apparent. He served on Osborne's staff for 19 seasons, first for four seasons as the head freshman coach and for 15 years as running backs coach. His last seven years as an assistant, Solich had the additional duties of assistant head coach.

Now entering his third season as head coach, he has proved to be the right choice to lead one of the nation's elite football programs. Solich has guided the Huskers to a 21-5 record in the past two years, the most wins by a Nebraska coach in his first two seasons at the helm. In fact, the 31-21 win over Tennessee in the 2000 Tostitos Fiesta Bowl tied Solich for third all time in victories in the first two seasons of a college coaching career.

The 2000 season is one of great anticipation for the Husker staff, players and fans as Solich's squad appears primed for a national title run. Nebraska returns 20 starters from last year's 12-1 campaign, including 11 on the offensive side of the ball.

Last year was a special one for Solich and his team. A midseason loss at Texas damaged Nebraska's national championship hopes, but Solich rallied his troops for an impressive stretch run. Nebraska faced possibly the nation's toughest five-game slate to end the season, but the Huskers answered with authority.

Nebraska shut out defending Big 12 champion Texas A&M, 37-0, then came back a week later to rout previously unbeaten Kansas State, 41-15. Against a dangerous Colorado team in Boulder, Solich led the Huskers to a gutsy overtime win, setting the stage for Nebraska's most impressive outing of the 1999 campaign.

The Huskers avenged their only loss of the season with a dominating 22-6 win against Texas in the Big 12 Championship game in San Antonio. The win made Nebraska the first team to capture two Big 12 titles and gave Solich his first league crown in just his second season.

Solich's Huskers completed their late-season charge with a show of force against Tennessee in the Tostitos Fiesta Bowl. Nebraska manhandled the No. 6 Volunteers with a rushing attack that churned out 321 yards, including 238 after halftime and wore down a talented Tennessee defense. The Huskers finished the season ranked second nationally by the Associated Press and third in the USA Today/ESPN Coaches Poll.

The Huskers' 1999 team success was largely attributed to Solich's calm and confident direction. He confidently made tough on- and off-field personnel decisions early in the season, then watched as the Huskers responded by developing cohesive offensive and defensive units, as well as exceptional special teams forces. Solich's role in Nebraska's championship season was recognized. He was chosen as Big 12 Coach of the Year by both his coaching peers in the conference and the Associated Press.

The 1999 Huskers were dominant on defense, ranking in the nation's top six in all four major defensive statistical categories, including fourth in total defense. Nebraska wasn't far behind on offense. The Husker ground game captured the league rushing title for the 12th straight season and ranked fourth nationally, averaging 265.9 yards per game. And like Osborne's teams and Solich's first squad, the Huskers boasted a strong special teams unit, ranking 12th in the nation in net punting and recording 10 blocked kicks during the season.

Nebraska's 12-1 season marked the seventh season with 12 or more wins, its fourth in the 1990s and sixth in Solich's 21 seasons on the Husker coaching staff.

In Solich's first season as head coach, the Huskers posted a 9-4 record, the 30th straight season Nebraska had won nine or more games. In addition, Nebraska's appearance in the Culligan Holiday Bowl marked the 30th straight year the Huskers had played in a postseason contest. Solich's nine victories in 1998 equaled the totals of his two Hall-of-Fame predecessors, Devaney and Osborne, who each won nine games in their first season as Nebraska's head coach.

Nebraska's success in 1998 came in the face of a great deal of adversity that could have made a lesser program shake. The Huskers opened the season with one of their least experienced squads in many seasons. Throughout the year, Solich's leadership was tested by a rash of injuries that hit the 1998 team. In all, nine projected starters missed a total of 45 games, forcing Solich to put a different starting lineup on the field nearly every Saturday.

Despite the youth and injuries Nebraska's four losses were by a total of just 24 points and all against teams who finished the season ranked among the nation's top 15.

Nebraska's first-year transition from Osborne to Solich as head coach was very smooth. Like Osborne, Solich served as his own offensive coordinator and like all of Osborne's teams, the 1998 Huskers were among the 12-best, averaging 253.8 yards per game on the ground and ranking sixth nationally in rushing.

Nebraska's defense was strong in 1998, ranking 22nd in total defense, 16th in rush defense and 11th in scoring defense. The Huskers also boasted a strong special teams unit, ranking seventh in the nation in net punting.

The most important aspect of Solich's promotion to head coach may be that it kept the veteran Husker coaching staff intact. All of Osborne's assistants remained on Solich's first staff. The current Husker coaching staff has a combined 132 years of experience at Nebraska and entering his third season, Solich has had to hire just two assistant coaches, including one to replace himself. That experience allowed Solich to begin his head coaching career surrounded by familiar faces and ideas.

The 55-year-old Solich can trace his ties to the Nebraska football program back to the beginning of the Devaney era and the turnaround of Nebraska football. Solich was part of Devaney's first recruiting class at Nebraska and became a standout fullback for the Huskers in the mid-1960s, lettering in 1963, 1964 and 1965. His playing career earned him induction into the Nebraska Football Hall of Fame in 1992.

While some remember Solich for his playing days, most Husker followers are more familiar with his work on Osborne's staff. Noted as one of the nation's top assistant coaches, Solich was tabbed Athlon Magazine's Assistant Coach of the Year before the start of the 1993 season.

Solich has been one of the primary factors in making Nebraska the model for the running game in college football. In nine of Solich's 15 seasons as running backs coach, Nebraska led the nation in rushing and finished in the top four every year. In the same period, the Huskers led the conference in rushing 13 times, including each of the last 10 seasons, and finished second in 1986 and 1987. In fact, NU churned out more than 350 yards per game while Solich guided the running backs.

Solich, who recruited and coached 1983 Heisman Trophy winner Mike Rozier, produced at least one all-conference running back in 13 of the 15 seasons he tutored that position.

In 1997, Solich's final season as running backs coach, Nebraska won its fifth NCAA rushing title in the 1990s, averaging 392.6 yards per game. Leading the way was junior I-back Ahman Green who earned All-Big 12 and second-team All-America honors. Green rushed for 1,877 yards, the second-best single-season total in NU history, and 22 touchdowns and capped his season with an Orange Bowl record 206 yards rushing against Tennessee. Green opted to turn pro after his junior year, but his 3,880 career yards rank him as the No. 2 rusher in NU history behind Rozier.

Green's 1997 season continued a run of excellent seasons by Husker I-backs. However, it is not just the I-back position that makes the Nebraska running game strong.

Husker fullbacks have been equally important to the ground game for the last three decades, dating back to Solich's playing days in the 1960s. NU's fullback play has never been stronger than in 1997 and 1998, when Joel Makovicka manned the position. Under Solich as a junior, Makovicka rushed for 685 yards and tied the Husker fullback record with nine touchdowns. In 1998, Makovicka broke the school record for career touchdowns by a fullback.

In 1996, Solich had a stable of running backs that combined for more than 2,000 yards, despite a series of injuries. Green was a third-team All-Big 12 selection as a sophomore, rushing for a team-high 917 yards. True freshman DeAngelo Evans chipped in 776 yards and scored 14 touchdowns. In 1995, Green broke the school's freshman rushing record with 1,086 yards and earned first-team All-Big Eight honors. He was also named the league's offensive newcomer of the year.

Green was the final addition in a long line of running backs who earned postseason honors and racked up record numbers under Solich. Green became the seventh Husker I-back to be a two-time all-conference selection under Solich, joining Rozier (1982-83), Doug DuBose (1984-85), Keith Jones (1986-87), Ken Clark (1988-89), Derek Brown (1991-92) and Calvin Jones (1992-93). In addition, Lawrence Phillips earned first-team All-Big Eight and second-team All-America honors in 1994, en route to the third-best single-season rushing total in school history. Solich-coached running backs own 20 of NU's 28 200-yard single-game rushing performances, while he accounted for one of the other eight himself. In addition, Solich tutored seven of the top eight performers on the school career rushing list, including each of the top four.

The dominant Husker running game has keyed an offense that has helped make Nebraska the most successful college football program in the last 30 years. Osborne won 255 games in his 25 years, with Solich on the staff for the last 200 of those victories. In fact, Nebraska teams that Solich has been a part of for the last 21 years have posted an amazing 221-38-1 record, for an .852 winning percentage.

In Solich's 19 years as an assistant on the NU staff, the Huskers captured three national championships, all while Solich was assistant head coach. In the same period, he was on the staff of 11 conference championship teams, 19 postseason bowl squads and 15 teams that finished the season ranked in the nation's top 10.

Nebraska running backs have succeeded by developing the same work ethic that made Solich a standout fullback. Despite weighing less than 160 pounds, Solich was an All-Big Eight fullback and co-captain of the Huskers' 1965 team.

Solich holds the NU single-game rushing record for a fullback with a 204-yard outing against Air Force in 1965. In fact, that performance stood as the NU game record by any player for 10 years, and Solich still ranks 48th on NU's career rushing chart with 1,010 yards. He rushed for 444 yards as a junior in 1964 and was second on the team in 1965 with 580 yards. Solich still holds the Orange Bowl record for return yards with 166 in 1966.

The teams Solich played on started the winning tradition Nebraska has enjoyed for the last 37 years. The Huskers posted records of 9-2, 10-

1, 9-2 and 10-1 while Solich was on the roster, won three conference titles and played in four straight bowl games. The 1965 Husker team completed the regular season unbeaten and in position for a national championship, but lost 39-28 to Bear Bryant's Alabama team in the Orange Bowl.

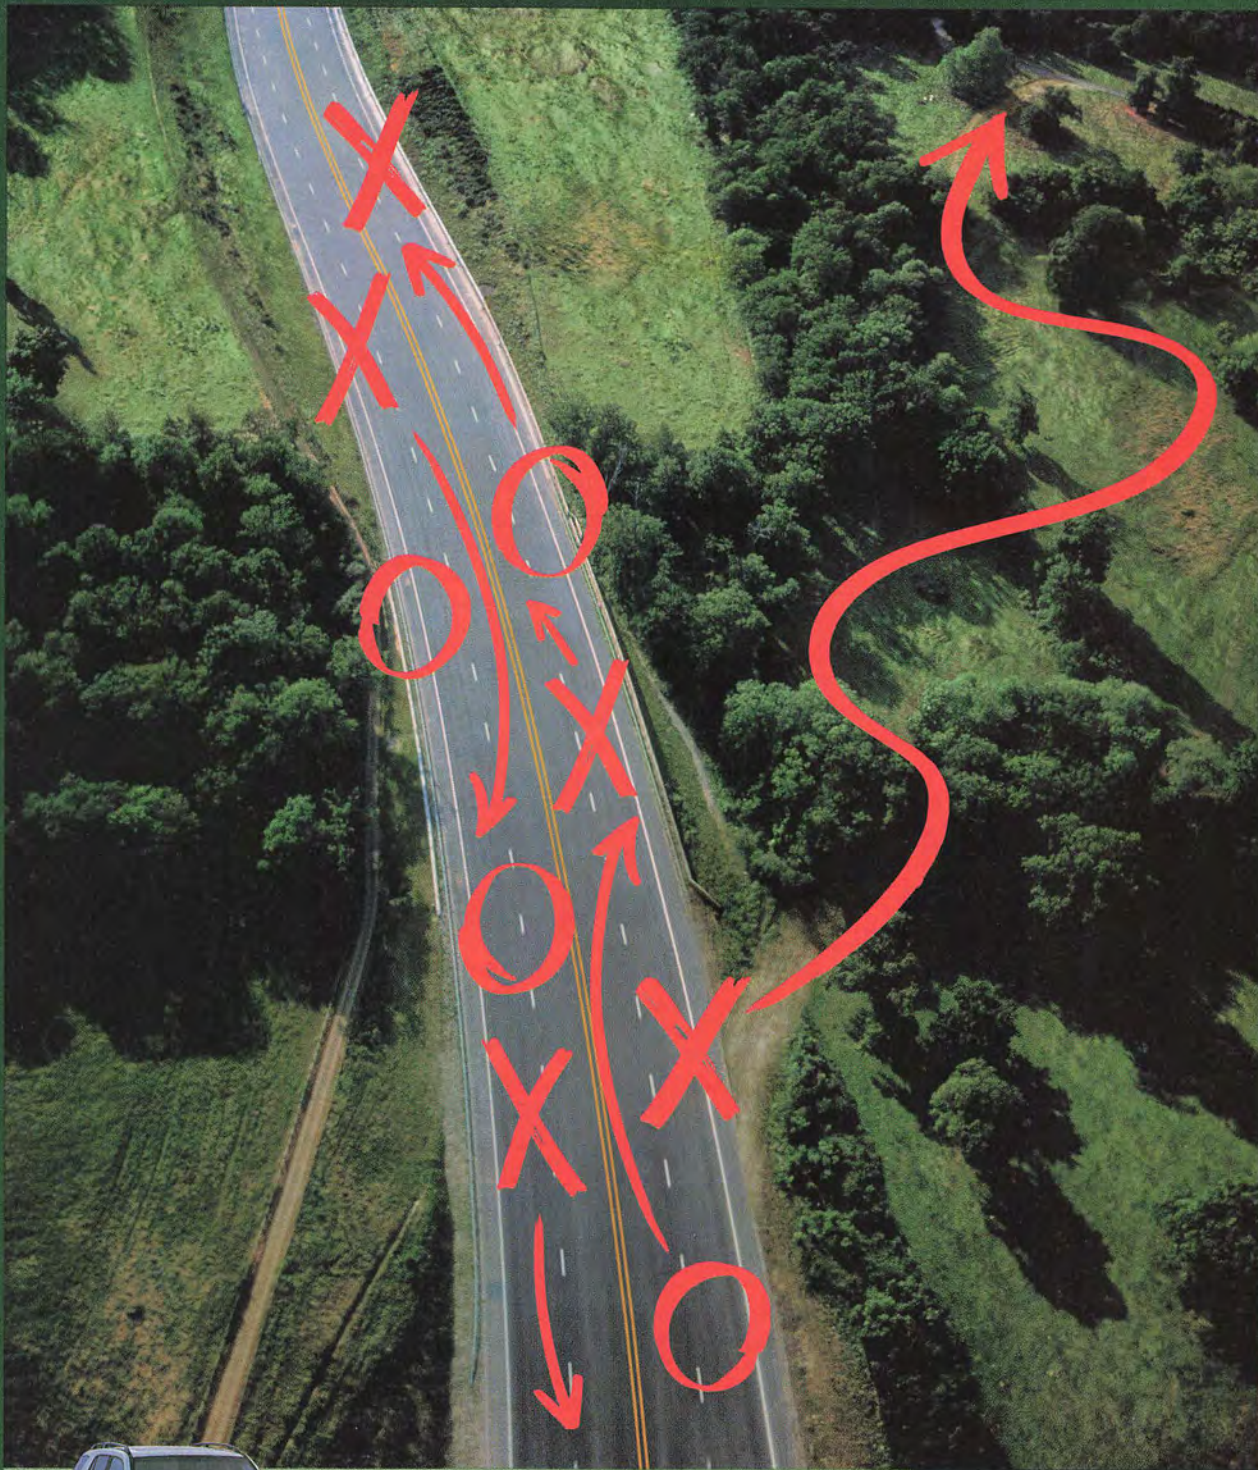

Solich also lettered in baseball for the Huskers in 1965.

A native of Cleveland, Solich prepped at Holy Name High School where he earned all-state, All-America and all-scholastic honors. He received his bachelor's (1966) and master's (1972) degrees from Nebraska.

After his playing days, Solich began his coaching career in the Nebraska prep ranks. He was the head coach at Holy Name High School in Omaha in 1966 and 1967. His Holy Name teams were 8-8 in two years and the 1967 team was state runner-up. After two seasons in Omaha, Solich moved to one of the top high school programs in the state at Lincoln Southeast. With Solich in charge of the Knight program, Southeast compiled a 66-33-5 record in 11 years. His Southeast teams captured back-to-back Class A state titles in 1976 and 1977. For his efforts, Solich was named the Lincoln Journal Star Nebraska boys prep coach of the year in 1978. A number of Solich's players at Southeast moved across town to play for Nebraska.

Solich himself made the move to Nebraska before the 1979 season. His first assignment on Osborne's staff was head freshman coach. In 1979, the young Huskers were 4-1, losing only at Missouri. Solich's 1979 team won its final game, beginning a 24-game winning streak for the freshmen that stretched to 1984. Solich finished his four years as freshman coach with a 19-1 record, before taking over as coach of the running backs in 1983.

With Solich coaching the backs, Nebraska's running attack had unparalleled success in college football. The biggest honor for a Solich-coached back came in the 1983 season when senior Mike Rozier captured the Heisman Trophy after rushing for 2,148 yards and 29 touchdowns. While no one has matched Rozier's season, Nebraska consistently produced some of the nation's top backs under Solich.

In 1984, Nebraska had two first-team All-Big Eight runners as sophomore

"One of the things you look for in a head football coach is leadership. But the thing I think that sets Frank apart is not only the leadership he has, but the genuine respect that our coaches, our staff and our athletes have for him. Frank has maintained the continuity and stability of the program, which is exactly what every school in the country is striving to attain."

Bill Byrne,
Nebraska Director of Athletics

Doug DuBose and senior Jeff Smith combined to rush for 1,975 yards and 15 touchdowns. As a junior, DuBose gained 1,161 yards to rank ninth nationally in rushing. His 1985 season earned him all-conference and second-team All-America honors. DuBose's backfield running mate in 1985, fullback Tom Rathman, was also an All-Big Eight selection, as he gained 881 yards, a single-season record for Husker fullbacks.

DuBose was primed for a run at the Heisman before a knee injury ended his Husker career in 1986 fall camp. In his absence, Keith Jones earned all-league honors by gaining 830 yards and scoring 14 touchdowns. Jones became Solich's second two-time All-Big Eight selection in 1987 by gaining 1,232 yards and 13 TDs and averaging a whopping 7.3 yards per carry.

Solich's I-back excellence continued in 1988 and 1989 with Ken Clark, who earned back-to-back first-team all-conference honors. Clark posted the then-third-best junior season in NU history in 1988, rushing for 1,497 yards and 12 touchdowns. In 1989, he added 1,196 yards and 14 touchdowns to rank fourth on the Husker career rushing list with 3,037 yards.

After one season without an all-league back, the Husker "we-backs" hit the scene in 1991. Sophomore Derek Brown ran through the opposition for 1,313 yards and 14 TDs to earn first-team All-Big Eight and third-team All-America honors. Also in 1991, Calvin Jones was named Big Eight Freshman of the Year after rushing for 900 yards, including an NU single-game record 294 yards and six touchdowns at Kansas.

In 1992, Brown and Jones shared time in the Husker backfield and both earned all-league honors. Brown rushed for 1,011 yards, while Jones had 1,210 yards and 14 touchdowns.

After Brown moved on to the NFL following his junior season, Jones was left to carry the load in 1993. Despite an early-season knee injury that ended his Heisman hopes, Jones earned all-league honors by rushing for 1,043 yards and 12 scores and helping the Huskers to within a missed field goal of a national title. Jones finished his career with 3,153 yards to rank third in career rushing at Nebraska. He also captured the Big Eight rushing crown his final two seasons, the fourth player to earn that title under Solich, joining Rozier (1983), DuBose (1984) and Keith Jones (1986).

Calvin Jones' early departure to the NFL left the I-back duties in the hands of sophomore Lawrence Phillips in 1994. Phillips responded in record fashion, running for a Nebraska sophomore-record 1,722 yards and 16 touchdowns to earn All-Big Eight and second-team All-America honors. He also finished eighth in the Heisman trophy balloting, the highest for a Nebraska player in 10 seasons.

In 1995, Solich started four different players at the I-back spot, including Ahman Green, who set the Husker frosh rushing record. Despite the unsettled situation at I-back, the Huskers didn't miss a beat, averaging just less than 400 yards per game and racking up an NCAA bowl-record 524 yards rushing in the Fiesta Bowl win over Florida.

In his 22 years on the Husker staff, Solich has been one of the nation's top recruiters. As an assistant, Solich primarily recruited the eastern part of the United States, but he also has recruiting experience in the Midwest. He has routinely brought prep All-America players to the Heartland. Several players Solich recruited to Nebraska have gone on to professional careers, including Irving Fryar, Brian Washington, Mike Croel, Tyrone Legette, Donta Jones and Doug Colman. Solich's ability to bring top talent to Lincoln has been evident in his first three recruiting classes as head coach. Solich's first three classes have included a combined 31 prep All-Americans and players from 18 different states, plus Canada. All three classes have been ranked in the nation's top 20, including the 2000 class, generally regarded as a top 10 class.

Solich's duties as an assistant coach under Osborne included several administrative roles. From 1983 to 1997, Solich was the director of the University of Nebraska Football Camp and the director of the University of Nebraska Football Coaches Clinic.

Since Solich took over the camp in 1983, the Husker camp numbers tripled to the current enrollment of 1,700 athletes per summer. Solich's work has also made the Nebraska coaches clinic one of the nation's largest events of its kind. When he took over the project in 1983 the average attendance was about 200 high school coaches. The 2000 clinic attracted more than 1,200 coaches from across the nation.

As Osborne's assistant head coach for seven seasons, Solich was the No. 2 spokesperson for the football team. He represented the Husker football teams in meetings with the NCAA, Big Eight and Big 12 conferences, as well as media gatherings.

Solich is married to the former Pamela Wieck of Beatrice, Neb., and they have two children, Cindy and Jeff (wife, Chara). Cindy and her husband, Jon Dalton, have a 5-year old daughter, Catherine, and a 3-year old son, Aaron. Jeff and Chara gave the coach and Pam their third grandchild with grandson Cade, who will celebrate his first birthday this October.

Solich's 21 wins in his first two seasons at Nebraska ranks ahead of NU Hall of Fame coaches Bob Devaney (19) and Tom Osborne (18).

Husker Football Assistant Coaches

Craig Bohl Defensive Coordinator/ Linebackers

Craig Bohl enters his sixth season as a Nebraska assistant, prepared for added responsibility this fall. Bohl will continue to coach the Husker linebackers, as he has the past five years, but in 2000 he takes over for Charlie McBride as NU's defensive coordinator.

Bohl, a Lincoln native, rejoined the Nebraska football family in the spring of 1995. He played for Nebraska under Tom Osborne from 1977 through 1979 and served as a graduate assistant coach for the Huskers from 1981 through 1983. The 15-year collegiate coaching veteran is one of five former Husker players on staff.

In Bohl's five seasons on Nebraska's defensive staff, the Huskers have ranked no lower than 22nd nationally in total defense. During the 1999 season, Nebraska finished sixth or higher nationally in all four major defensive categories, including fourth in total defense at 252.3 yards per game.

A strong recruiter, Bohl recruits Houston, as well as much of the Pacific Northwest, both areas with ample talent.

Bohl spent the 1994 campaign as Duke's defensive coordinator and inside linebackers coach, and was instrumental in one of college football's biggest turnarounds. Bohl helped the Blue Devils to an 8-4 record (a five-game improvement from a 3-8 mark in 1993) and a berth in the Hall of Fame Bowl, the school's first postseason appearance since 1989.

Before moving to Duke with Coach Fred Goldsmith, Bohl spent five seasons as Goldsmith's defensive coordinator at Rice. During his Rice tenure, three of his linebackers earned All-Southwest Conference honors.

Before his stint at Rice, Bohl spent two seasons (1987-88) at Wisconsin as linebackers coach, a pair of campaigns (1985-86) as the linebacker mentor at Tulsa and a season (1984) as the secondary coach at North Dakota State.

Bohl is married to the former Deanna Hauptman of Nebraska City, and they have 9-year-old twin daughters, Mallory and Morgan, and a 6-year-old son, Aaron. Deanna graduated from Nebraska in 1983 with a marketing degree.

Nelson Barnes Rush Ends

Nelson Barnes enters his fourth season as a Husker assistant coach, charged with continuing Nebraska's long tradition of outstanding defensive ends.

In his first three seasons on the Nebraska staff, Barnes has been a part of outstanding defenses that helped the Huskers to a Big 12 and national title in 1997 and a conference title last season.

Barnes, who came to Nebraska after three seasons at the University of Texas, is the only person in the Big 12 Conference with three league football championship rings. He collected his first ring when the Longhorns defeated Nebraska for the inaugural Big 12 title in 1996.

The 1996 title season was Barnes' third and final campaign on Coach John Makovic's Texas staff.

In 1999, Barnes' rush ends helped the Huskers to a school-record 53 sacks and 112 tackles for loss. The Husker defense ranked in the nation's top six in all four major defensive categories, including fourth in total defense.

Barnes plays an integral part in Nebraska's recruiting success. His primary areas of recruiting responsibility include Houston, southern Louisiana, as well as other parts of the Southeast.

Barnes was familiar with Nebraska not only from his years at Texas, but from the 1993 season he spent at Kansas State. In Manhattan, he served as the defensive line coach for head coach Bill Snyder. In 1993, Kansas State posted a 9-2-1 record and recorded the school's first bowl victory at the Copper Bowl.

Before his one-year stay at K-State, Barnes spent the 1991 and 1992 seasons as the defensive line coach at Western Illinois and assisted the 1991 team to the I-AA playoffs. He also served in the same role at Missouri Western in 1990.

Barnes' college coaching experience began at North Texas. He served as the defensive line/linebackers coach at the Denton, Texas, school from 1983 to 1989 and was a graduate assistant at the school in 1981 and 1982.

Barnes played at North Texas under Coach Hayden Fry and was a three-year starter for UNT on the defensive line. He helped North Texas to back-to-back 9-2 records in 1977 and 1978. Barnes earned a bachelor's degree in industrial arts from North Texas in 1982.

A native of Alvin, Texas, Barnes married the former Cydney Young on July 1, 2000.

Ron Brown Receivers

Ron Brown enters his 14th season as the Huskers' receivers coach. Although the Nebraska offense features a strong rushing attack, Brown's receivers have been an integral part to the Huskers' overall offensive success.

The Husker receiving corps has led the conference in touchdown receptions three times in his tenure.

Twenty-two of Brown's former pupils have gone on to professional careers, including tight end Johnny Mitchell, the New York Jets' 1992 first-round draft pick, Tyrone Hughes, who was a two-time NFL Pro Bowl selection with the New Orleans Saints and tight end Sheldon Jackson, who was a seventh-round pick of Buffalo in the 1999 NFL Draft.

Brown covers a key area for Nebraska's recruiting efforts, handling much of the western United States. In recent years, Nebraska secured a number of players from Arizona, Colorado, Utah and other western states, all Brown's areas of responsibility.

Brown joined Nebraska's staff after a four-year stint at Brown University in Providence, R.I. He spent one season as the Bears' head freshman coach in 1983, then moved up to the varsity staff and tutored the defensive backs for three seasons. He also served as the assistant to the athletic director in 1986.

A standout defensive back at Brown in the late 1970s and a member of the school's Sports Hall of Fame, Brown received his bachelor's degree from Brown in 1979, then earned his master's degree in health administration from Columbia University in 1982. He began his coaching career as defensive coordinator for the semi-pro New Jersey Rams in 1982, before moving to his alma mater in 1983.

Coach Brown hosts two statewide Christian radio shows. He has authored several books on Christian character and growth. His newest book "Miracle in Missouri" is scheduled to be released this fall.

Brown and former Husker Stan Parker are co-founders and co-directors of a statewide Christian ministry called "Mission Nebraska." The organization continues to run several Christian camps for lower income children throughout Nebraska.

Brown is married to Molvina Carter of San Diego, Calif., and they have two daughters, Sojourner Elaine, 5 and Bronwyn Pearl, 2.

George Darlington Defensive Backs

George Darlington, the dean of the Nebraska football coaching staff, is the only remaining member of Tom Osborne's original Husker staff. Darlington is beginning his 28th season at Nebraska and his 15th as the Huskers' secondary coach after tutoring the defensive ends for 13 seasons.

Darlington was a recipient of a 1998 All-American Football Foundation "Top Assistant Award." This summer the veteran assistant picked up another coaching honor, as his homestate of West Virginia honored the Charleston native with the first-ever George Cafego Award for distinguishment in the coaching profession. Cafego was a West Virginia native who was a consensus All-America halfback at Tennessee and finished fourth in the 1939 Heisman voting.

Darlington's secondary had a banner season in 1999 as seniors Mike Brown and Ralph Brown both received first-team All-America honors. Husker opponents completed less than 43 percent of their passes and the NU defense intercepted 18 passes, while allowing just 11 passing touchdowns.

Darlington plays a major role in bringing top talent to the Nebraska campus. The veteran assistant has been vital to landing top players from the state of California for several years and recently, Darlington has started a pipeline from the Hawaiian islands to Lincoln.

Before joining Osborne's staff in 1973, Darlington spent four seasons as an assistant coach at San Jose State. He coached two years at Johnson Regional High School in Clark, N.J., then started his collegiate coaching career at Lebanon Valley (Pa.) College, followed by one year at Dartmouth before going to San Jose State.

A 1961 graduate of Rutgers University with a bachelor's degree in history and physical education, Darlington earned his master's degree from Stanford in 1962. While at Rutgers, Darlington lettered in football in 1959 and 1960, and lettered twice in lacrosse, earning third-team All-America honors in 1961. George and his wife, Susan, have three children, Lisa, David and Julia, and four grandchildren.

Turner Gill Quarterbacks

Former All-Big Eight Husker signal caller Turner Gill enters his ninth season as Nebraska's quarterbacks coach.

In 1999, Gill tutored Eric Crouch to one of the top seasons ever by a Husker quarterback. Crouch compiled 2,158 yards of total offense, the fourth best in school history and tops by a Husker sophomore.

Gill's development of excellent quarterbacks is far from his only asset to the Husker staff. He is regarded as a strong recruiter, covering parts of Texas and Louisiana and all of Arkansas. Along with Dan Young, Gill also heads up the "Hire a Husker" program, which matches NU student-athletes with local businesses for summer employment.

As Nebraska's starting signal caller from 1981 through 1983, Gill led the Huskers to a 28-2 mark, including a 20-0 league record, and three conference titles.

A three-time All-Big Eight pick and a second-team All-American as a senior, Gill was the key to the Huskers' high-octane offense in 1983, a season in which NU I-back Mike Rozier won the Heisman Trophy and Gill finished fourth in the voting for collegiate football's top award. The 1983 team finished 12-1 and second in the final polls. In his four-year career (1980-83), Gill completed 231 of 428 passes for 3,317 yards, 34 touchdowns and a .540 completion percentage and rushed for 1,317 yards and 18 TDs. He is sixth on NU's all-time total offense chart with 4,634 yards.

A talented all-around athlete, Gill spent two seasons with the Canadian Football League's Montreal Concordes (1984-85) and three years (1986-88) in the Cleveland and Detroit minor league baseball systems. He left baseball and returned to his native state to the University of North Texas in 1989, where he was a volunteer assistant football coach and earned a B.A. in behavior analysis in 1990.

Gill returned to Nebraska in 1990 and served as a graduate assistant on the Husker staff, then moved to SMU as a graduate assistant for the 1991 campaign. He served as the Mustangs' receivers coach for that season and was elevated to a full-time coaching position, but returned to Nebraska in August of 1992. Gill has taken graduate courses at both Southern Methodist and Nebraska.

He is married to the former Gayle DeBrie, of Kearney, Neb., and they have two daughters, Jordan, 10 and Margaux, 6.

Dave Gillespie Running Backs

Dave Gillespie is beginning his third season on the Husker coaching staff. While he is the newest member of the Husker offensive staff, Gillespie is certainly a familiar face in the Nebraska camp.

Gillespie was hired in the spring of 1998 to take Head Coach Frank Solich's position as the assistant coach in charge of running backs. In addition to his on-field duties, Gillespie also serves as Nebraska's recruiting coordinator.

The Nebraska running game has not missed a beat with Gillespie. Nebraska has captured consecutive Big 12 rushing titles the past two seasons, including the 1999 team that gained 265.9 yards per game on the ground to finish fourth nationally.

Gillespie's Nebraska ties are strong. He was a running back for the Huskers early in Tom Osborne's coaching career from 1974 to 1976. Gillespie began his coaching career in the Nebraska high school ranks, serving as an assistant coach at Lincoln High School from 1978 to 1981 before moving to Hastings High as head coach from 1982 to 1984. Gillespie rejoined the Nebraska staff as a graduate assistant for Osborne in the 1985 season and served as the Huskers' administrative assistant and recruiting coordinator from 1986 to 1993.

He returned to Nebraska after four seasons on the staff at the University of Kansas. He served as a Jayhawk assistant for three seasons (1994-96) under Glen Mason. He worked with the tight ends in 1994, before serving as defensive line coach in 1995-96. In 1997, Gillespie served as an administrative assistant for first-year Jayhawk coach Terry Allen.

During his eight-year span as recruiting coordinator at Nebraska (1986-93), Gillespie assisted in the recruitment of 15 All-Americans, which included three Outland Trophy winners (Will Shields, Zach Wiegert and Aaron Taylor), one Butkus Award winner (Trev Alberts), one Heisman Trophy runner-up (Tommie Frazier) and one Lombardi Award winner (Grant Wistrom). His last recruiting class (1993) posted a 60-3 five-year record, winning three national championships.

His strong record in overseeing Nebraska's recruiting efforts made Gillespie a natural fit to take over Solich's previous recruiting territory. Gillespie directs the Husker recruiting efforts in the majority of the eastern part of the United States, as well as Canada. In 1999, he also took over the talent-rich state of Florida.

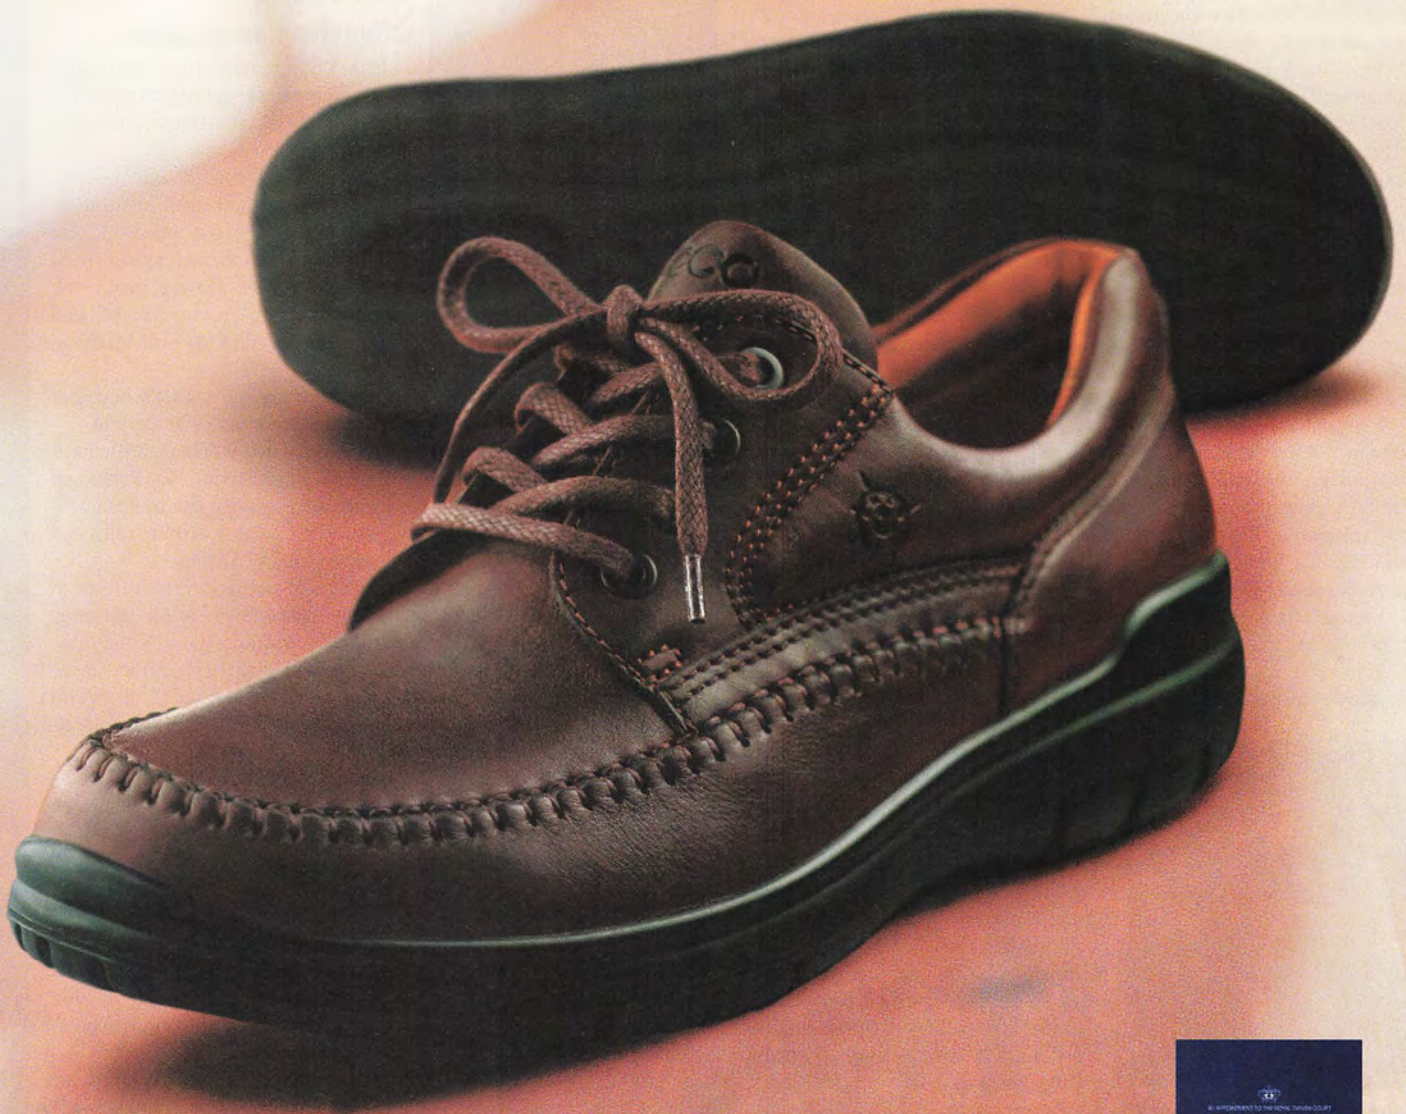

Gillespie earned three letters as an I-back for the Huskers and earned his bachelor's degree from Nebraska in 1977. He received his master's degree in educational administration from the University of Nebraska in 1986.

Gillespie is married to the former Anne Van Pelt and they have three daughters, Katie, 19, Nicole, 16, and Emily, 13. Gillespie was born in the San Jose, Calif., area and graduated from Westmont High School in San Jose in 1973.

Jeff Jamrog Defensive Line

Former Husker defensive end Jeff Jamrog is the newest member of the Nebraska coaching staff. He replaces Charlie McBride as defensive line coach. Jamrog will coach the Husker defensive tackles and nose tackles.

Jamrog spent the last three years as defensive coordinator and inside linebackers coach at New Mexico State.

At the Las Cruces, N.M., school, Jamrog helped Head Coach Tony Samuel, a former Husker assistant, turn around a program that had just two winning seasons in the previous 31 years until 1999. Last year, the Aggies went 6-5, the first winning season at NMSU since 1992.

Jamrog's defense ranked first in the Big West Conference and 14th in the country in pass efficiency defense. The Aggies ranked second in the conference in scoring defense and total defense, holding four opponents to a touchdown or less.

From 1994 to 1996, Jamrog was the defensive coordinator at Nebraska-Omaha under head coach Pat Behrms. His first year, Jamrog coached the defensive line, then moved to inside linebackers for the last two seasons. Jamrog helped the Mavericks win their first outright North Central Conference championship in 1996 and helped UNO make a turnaround from a 3-8 season in 1995 to a school-best 10-2 mark and No. 4 national ranking in 1996.

Prior to his stay at UNO, Jamrog spent four seasons as an assistant at South Dakota (1990-93), first under Coach John Fritch, then under Dennis Creehan. Jamrog helped Coach Creehan turn South Dakota around from a 1-8 season in 1991 to a 6-5 mark in 1993. At USD, Jamrog coached inside linebackers, was the special teams coordinator and also served as the academic coordinator.

Jamrog began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Nebraska during the 1988 and 1989 seasons, earning his master's degree and an NCAA postgraduate scholarship. His duties included serving as the special teams coordinator and coaching the inside linebackers.

A former walk-on for the Huskers, Jamrog played for the freshman team in 1983, redshirted in 1984, then lettered three years as a defensive end playing for Coach Samuel, his position coach. As a senior, Jamrog had 66 tackles including 47 solo stops, eight sacks and 13 tackles for loss. He earned the Guy Chamberlin Trophy, given to the senior player who has contributed to the betterment of the University of Nebraska football squad by his play and actions, in 1987.

Jamrog earned his bachelor of science degree in business administration from UNL in 1987 and his master's degree in business administration from UNL in 1990. He is married to the former Connie J. Hoeven and together they have three children, Elizabeth, 9, Brett, 7 and Jared, 4.

Milt Tenopir Offensive Line

Milt Tenopir heads into his 27th campaign as the Huskers' offensive line coach, the second-longest tenure on the NU staff. No college football program can boast the honors that Nebraska's offensive linemen have piled up during Tenopir's tenure.

In 1999 the Nebraska offensive line paved the way for yet another Big 12 rushing title, as NU averaged 265.9

yards per game on the ground.

The Huskers have won an amazing 11 NCAA rushing titles with Tenopir on staff, the most recent in 1997. That veteran unit paved the way for Nebraska to lead the nation in rushing for the fifth time in the 1990s, rushing for an average of 392.6 yards per game.

Tenopir's "Pipeline" played a major role in back-to-back national titles in 1994 and 1995. The 1994 unit keyed the Husker offense to 340.0 rushing yards per game.

The 1983 Husker offense is recognized as one of the best in college football history. Nebraska averaged a school-record 401.7 rushing yards per game in that season.

Under Tenopir's guidance, Nebraska has produced six Outland Trophy winners and a pair of Lombardi Award honorees.

In all, Tenopir has coached 18 All-Americans, 11 academic All-Americans, six NCAA Today's Top Eight Award winners and 46 all-conference selections. The Huskers have had at least one first-team all-conference lineman in each of Tenopir's 26 seasons on the sideline, while his O-line has had at least one academic all-conference selection for 22 straight years. From 1981 to 1983, the Huskers produced an unprecedented three straight Outland Trophy winners in Dave Rimington (1981-82) and Dean Steinkuhler (1983).

Tenopir has long been a strong force in Nebraska's recruiting success. He was the leading figure in Nebraska breaking the University of Oklahoma's stranglehold on the talent in the Sooner state. Tenopir also handles the recruitment of Kansas and west Texas. The veteran assistant is in charge of Nebraska's spring coaching clinic, which this past April brought about 1,200 high school coaches to campus.

Dan Young Offensive Line/Kickers

Dan Young enters his 18th season on the Nebraska coaching staff and his 15th as the Huskers' offensive line and kicking coach.

Under Young's guidance the Nebraska kicking game has been at its best, boasting the top place-kickers and punters in school history. In 1998, place-kicker Kris Brown broke the school's all-time scoring record and became the NCAA's all-time leader in PATs made and attempted (tied).

Young's punting team is consistently among the nation's best and ranked among the nation's top six in net punting from 1992 to 1994.

Young also played a key role in the coaching of a 1999 Husker offensive line that guided Nebraska to the Big 12 rushing title and No. 4 national ranking, averaging 265.9 yards per game. While Young has assisted with the offensive line, the Huskers have won eight NCAA rushing titles and three NU offensive linemen have won the Outland Trophy.

The veteran assistant heads up Nebraska's in-state recruiting efforts, in addition to recruiting several other Midwestern states. In the last three years, Nebraska has signed 22 in-state players to scholarships. Young also directs the Husker summer football camp, which annually attracts more than 1,700 prepsters to Lincoln. Young and fellow assistant Turner Gill also head up the "Hire a Husker" program, matching Husker student-athletes with summer employers.

Young became an offensive line coach with Milt Tenopir when Cletus Fischer retired from coaching after the 1985 season. Young spent three years (1983-85) as head freshman/junior varsity coach, posting a 14-1-0 record, before joining the varsity staff.

Young came to NU after six highly successful seasons as the head coach at Omaha's Westside High School, where his Warriors were 55-11-0 from 1977 to 1982, reached the state championship game three times and posted back-to-back 12-0-0 state title seasons in 1981 and 1982. Young began his coaching career as head coach at Barneston (Neb.) High School from 1962 to 1964. After a year as an assistant coach at St. Paul (Neb.) High School, he served as an assistant at Westside for 11 seasons.

A graduate of Primrose (Neb.) High School, Young received his bachelor's degree from Kearney State in 1962. He has done graduate work at Nebraska, Nebraska-Omaha, Missouri and Reed College and earned his master's degree in liberal studies from Reed in 1972.

He has a son, Jeff, a daughter, Kris and five grandchildren. Dan and his wife, Ronda, were married in the summer of 1995.

Always ready. Always there.

For over three hundred years, the National Guard has faced many threats, from weapons of war to devastating natural disasters. When our country and our communities called, we answered.

Today there are new threats, ones we can't see, hear, smell or touch. Biological and chemical weapons represent new challenges for the men and women of the Army and Air National Guard. Yet our mission remains the same—support civilian emergency responders such as fire, rescue and police. Be there when America needs us. As we always have.

The more the world changes, the greater the challenges we face. We are citizen-soldiers and airmen, people just like you who are committed to serving our communities and our country. We are your National Guard.

Husker Women's Golf

Sarah Sasse

As the 2001 season approaches, expectations for the Nebraska women's golf program have risen to an all-time high.

NU Coach Robin Krapfl doesn't lie awake at night and wonder why. The Huskers produced a school history-making season in 2000 in which their list of accomplishments included a third-place Big 12 Conference finish, a ninth-place showing at the NCAA West Regional and an NCAA Tournament bid.

The question, Krapfl said, is whether the Huskers can improve upon last season's historic performances. The 13-year coaching veteran thinks they can.

"The girls have been to the NCAA Tournament," Krapfl said, "They know what it's like now, and they're going to want to get back there. I don't want to put too much pressure on them, but if everyone improves as they should from year to year, we will be an even stronger team than last year."

The Huskers have reason for optimism. Four of Nebraska's top five players from the 2000 NCAA Tournament squad return, including junior all-Big 12 Conference honoree Lincoln product Sarah Sasse.

Sasse, the 2000 Nebraska Women's Amateur Golf Association Stroke Play Champion, led the Huskers with a 75.97 stroke average in 2000 and ranked sixth in the Big 12 in that category (76.37 regular-season average). The Lincoln High product placed eighth or higher in five of seven spring appearances in 2000. Sasse followed her successful spring with a second-place finish at the 2000 World University Golf Championships in Northern Ireland in July.

Other returning NCAA participants are Amy Roux, Catha Fogelberg and Amanda Sutcliffe. Krapfl said the Huskers will turn to Roux, the lone senior on the squad, for leadership. The Kearney High product finished third on the team with a 78.84 average last season.

Fogelberg, who became a go-to player for the Huskers early in the spring when she placed 12th or higher in three straight meets, will also likely remain in the Husker lineup, as will Sutcliffe, who ranked fifth on the team as a sophomore with an 80.82 stroke average.

Sophomores Amanda Krane and Stephanie Schaefer and freshman walk-on Lesley Vaughn round out the squad. As a freshman, Krane cracked the Husker lineup twice during the spring and started for NU four times during the fall of 1999. Krapfl said all three golfers have the ability to contribute significantly.

Nebraska will compete in six tournaments during the fall before kicking off the 2001 season Feb. 23-25 at the Midwest Classic in Dallas, Texas. The Huskers will compete in six tournaments in the spring, including the April 23-25 Big 12 Championships hosted by Iowa State in Ames, Iowa.

"We have a solid schedule," Krapfl said. "We'll face a lot of teams that have NCAA Regional experience or that will compete for a regional bid, and that will only help us."

Husker Men's Golf

Seth Porter

During the 1999-2000 season, the Nebraska men's golf team went through some serious growing pains. The Husker squad consisted of four freshmen (Rob Arthur, Jim Troy, Marty Smith and J.J. Sullivan) and sophomore Seth Porter after four of NU's best golfers completed their eligibility after the 1999 season.

Now, with a year of experience under their belts, the young and talented Huskers should show marked improvement in 2000-2001.

"I knew heading into the season that with how young we were it was going to be a tough year," NU Coach Larry Romjue said. "So it was disappointing but not unexpected. When you lose four seniors it makes things hard, and I had no choice but to play some guys that I would have liked to redshirt. From that though, the team gained a lot of quality experience that will help us improve this season and in the seasons to come."

The Huskers have everyone back from the 1999-2000 team that was headlined by Arthur and Porter, who played in the No. 1 and No. 2 spots for NU all season.

Porter's best outing was in the Missouri/Purina Bluffs Invitational in St. Louis, Mo., where he tied for second with a three-round total of 208.

Arthur showcased his talent at the Southwest Classic in Victoria, Texas with a sixth-place finish, firing a three-round total of 220.

Troy, a native of Clarendon Hills, Ill., ended his 2000 season on a high note by placing 43rd at the Big 12 Championships. He was the highest-placing Husker and ended the championships with a three-round total of 231, including a first-round low of 71.

Both Smith and Sullivan had strong freshman campaigns. At his first collegiate competition, Sullivan tied for eighth at the Fairway Club Invitational. Smith didn't join the team until the beginning of the second semester but was able to contribute right away, helping the Huskers defeat Texas-Pan American in a dual competition on Feb. 13th in Edinburg, Texas.

Rounding out the squad will be transfer Blake Humbles and Kearney native Jonathan Aten. Both will join the Huskers this fall.

"With all the guys we have coming back and the addition of a couple of recruits, I fully expect to have a better year," Romjue said. "I will be very disappointed if they don't use the knowledge they gained last year and improve this season. But I do know how tough the Big 12 Conference is and how difficult it is to move up. So I won't have unrealistic expectations for the team, but I do expect to see significant improvement."

Athletic Endowments

The Devaney Society

The University of Nebraska Athletic Endowment Program was established to ensure the quality of student-athletes who will represent the University in the future. In the past, Nebraska has been able to attract some of the best, brightest and most dedicated individuals to its academic classrooms and athletic programs by providing them with scholarships funded through athletic department revenue. To help offset the rising costs of supporting quality student-athletes, the Nebraska Athletic Endowment Program has established the Devaney Society, named in honor of Hall of Fame Coach Bob Devaney.

The Brook Berringer Memorial Scholarship

The Brook Berringer Memorial Scholarship was endowed in memory of former Nebraska quarterback Brook Berringer, who died in a plane crash on April 18, 1996. Brook was the epitome of a backup quarterback-patient, but always prepared, both mentally and physically to take over when needed.

Berringer served as Tommie Frazier's backup in 1994 until the starter's season ended because of blood clots. With poise and grace, Berringer calmly led Nebraska to eight consecutive victories and to the national championship game against Miami in the Orange Bowl.

An excellent student, Berringer graduated in December 1995 with a degree in business administration. He was expected to be selected in the 1996 NFL Draft on April 20-21, possibly as the fifth or sixth quarterback chosen, but did not get to live out his dream.

The Husker football program has established an award in his honor called the "Brook Berringer Citizenship Team."

The endowment was established by a benefit concert given on Aug. 27, 1997, by the members of the country singing group Sawyer Brown, who were friends of Brook Berringer.

Nebraska student-athletes who continued with graduate school received more than $86,500 in postgraduate scholarship money in 1999. NU football players accounted for $57,000 of that total.

Memorial Stadium/Tom Osborne Field

Nebraska's continuing NCAA record of consecutive home sellouts passed the 200-mark in 1994 and is expected to reach 239 with six home sellouts in 2000. On Homecoming, Oct. 29, 1994, against the University of Colorado, Nebraska celebrated its 200th consecutive sellout. In 1999, Nebraska set a single-season home attendance record by averaging 77,729 fans for six home games, breaking the old record average of 76,342 set in 1988.

The string of consecutive sellouts started on Nov. 3, 1962, when 36,501 showed up for the Homecoming contest vs. Missouri. The last non-sellout in Memorial Stadium was Oct. 20, 1962, when the Huskers and Kansas State drew 30,701.

With the new additions for the 1999 season, the Cornhuskers' Memorial Stadium will have a seating capacity of 74,031, up from 72,700. Home attendance has averaged over 75,000 for the past 27 years, as NU has ranked in the top six nationally in attendance for many years.

In the fall of 1922, a drive for $430,000 in stadium construction funds was undertaken by faculty, students, alumni and friends of the University of Nebraska. The quota was over subscribed. The Stadium was named Memorial Stadium to honor all Nebraskans who served in the Civil and Spanish-American Wars; the 751 Nebraskans who died in World War I; the 3,839 in World War II; the 225 in Korea; and the 422 in Vietnam. Construction was completed in a few more than 90 working days and Memorial Stadium was dedicated on Oct. 20, 1923, at the Homecoming game in which Nebraska was held to a scoreless tie by Kansas.

Inscribed on the four corners of Memorial Stadium and preserved despite construction is the following words, written by former UNL professor of philosophy Hartley Burr Alexander:

Southeast: "In Commendation of the men of Nebraska who served and fell in the Nations Wars."

Southwest: "Not the victory but the action; Not the goal but the game; In the deed the glory."

Northwest: "Courage; Generosity; Fairness; Honor; In these are the true awards of manly sport."

Northeast: "Their Lives they held their countrys trust; They kept its faith; They died its heroes."

As part of the continuing improvement of athletic facilities at the University of Nebraska, several major projects have been completed throughout the past 76 years enhancing the facility. The $1 million Hewit Center performance buffet/study hall area was opened in March of 1985, underneath the West Stadium adjacent to the massive strength complex. The weight room and the Hewit Center were expanded and remodeled in 1989. The artificial turf was replaced again in 1992.

Prior to the fall of 1994, Nebraska installed two 17' feet high, by 23' feet wide replay boards, now known to Nebraska faithful as HuskerVision screens.

Following the 1997 season, construction began on a $36-million improvement project which was completed for the start of the 1999 season. Included in the improvements were the addition of a new press box facility and 42 skyboxes, each of which houses 25 spectators on game day. In addition, club seating rose from approximately 350 to 1,500 per game. The improvement project also tripled the number of restrooms on both the East and West sides of the stadium, doubled the number of concessions in both East and West concourses and included concrete repair and waterproofing throughout the stadium. The renovations raised the capacity of Memorial Stadium from 72,700 to 74,031. It is also noted that the original four inscriptions will remain visible for the generations to come. The 1999 season also marked the debut of a new artifical surface called FieldTurf, making Nebraska the first Division I program to use the new surface.

Seventy-Seven Years in Memorial Stadium

Nebraska football teams for the past 77 years have been glad to call Memorial Stadium home. Evidence for this is a 317-99-13 (.754) record posted by the Huskers in their home since it was opened in 1923.

Under the Lights

Nebraska's first night football game was Nov. 30, 1951, at Miami's Orange Bowl when the Huskers lost to the Miami Hurricanes, 19-7. Ironically, Nebraska's first night football game at home was the 1986 opener against another team from the "Sunshine State," Florida State. Nebraska is 41-13-3 all time under the lights, including 9-1-0 at home.

Memorial Stadium as it appeared in 1931, just eight years after the original construction of the facility. The project required $430,000 in funding.

Husker Women's Swimming and Diving

Therese Alshammar

After placing third at the 2000 Big 12 Championships, the Nebraska women's swimming team will look to regain a place among the conference elite this season.

The Huskers return 13 letterwinners from last season's squad which placed 20th at the 2000 NCAA Championships, extending NU's streak of top-20 finishes to eight straight years, the longest streak in the program's history.

The Huskers return a trio of NCAA qualifiers in senior Shandra Johnson and sophomores Lindsey Highstrom and Elvira

Fischer. Johnson, an eight-time All-American, is one of the most successful swimmers in the program's history, earning conference swimmer-of-the-year honors in 1998 and 1999. Highstrom earned All-America honors on NU's 4x800-meter freestyle relay as a true freshman, while Fischer, who will compete for Austria in the Sydney Olympics, swept Big 12 titles in both the 100 and 200-meter backstroke, earning All-America status in the 100-meter backstroke.

In addition to the returnees, the Huskers also regain the services of Therese Alshammar, who sat out the 1999-2000 season to train for the Olympics. One of the world's top female swimmers, Alshammar broke four world records in three days at the 1999 European Short Course Championships and is a potential medalist at this year's Olympics. The Stockholm, Sweden, native placed fourth in both the 50 and 100-yard freestyle at the 1999 NCAA Championships, and the 14-time All-American's return this season greatly enhances the Huskers' hopes for another top-20 NCAA finish.

Annually, the Huskers compile one of the nation's toughest schedules to prepare for the Big 12 and NCAA meets. NU will play host to perennial powers Virginia and UNLV, along with Division II Drury and Division III Kenyon, at the annual Husker Shoot Out and the adidas Sprint Classic in November.

Perhaps the biggest non-conference challenge comes in February when Georgia, the two-time defending women's NCAA champion, and Michigan visit the Bob Devaney Sports Center Pool for a rare late-season triangular meet with the Big Red.

"We face a difficult schedule," Bentz said. "If you look at years past, and you see the people we've invited in and the places that we have traveled to, you'll see a high level of competition."

Husker Men's Swimming and Diving

Javier Botello

To some, the 2000-2001 Nebraska men's swimming and diving season may appear like a chance to rebuild.

Gone are names synonymous with the program during the last four years, perhaps four of the most successful seasons in school history. Olympians Adam Pine, Carlos Asarta, Valery Kalmikovs and Michael Windisch all completed their eligibility. Gone, too, is All-America diver Erik Cook.

However, a closer look reveals that many of the key cogs of NU's 14th-place finish at the 2000 NCAA Championships remain.

Anchoring the squad will be senior Peter Fry and juniors Anthony Rogis, Carlos Oliva and Javier Botello. A total of 20 letterwinners return, including NCAA qualifiers Erik Wiken and Bert Locklin.

Although there will be many members of the team not competing for NU during the first semester due to their participation in the 2000 Olympics, Coach Cal Bentz doesn't think the team will be negatively affected.

"Once you change one area of the dynamic, the whole dynamic changes," Bentz said. "That will have to be an area that we focus on. As people come back to the team, we will integrate them into the team."

Couple the returning lettermen with the incoming freshmen, and the Huskers will bring a solid team to the table.

"We expect to have a much better team this year than we have had in years past," Bentz said. "Along with our returning players, we have some real strong recruits coming in."

Among the returning lettermen are five swimmers who garnered All-America honors in 2000 (Botello, Rogis, Fry, Wiken and Oliva). Of the five, Botello grabbed three All-American nods last season, while Rogis and Fry received two each.

Again this season, the Huskers will face a difficult schedule with defending national champion Texas, as well as top squads from SMU, UNLV and Virginia.

"Our goal is to always schedule the best teams," Bentz said. "We have to schedule teams that are at the level that we want to be at. It helps us stay at this level."

The Huskers will head to Austin, Texas, March 1-3 to compete at the Big 12 Championships. The season will conclude with the NCAA Championships in College Station, Texas, from March 22-24.

Husker Bowling

Bill Straub

The Nebraska women's bowling team left the millennium as a candidate for the team of the 1990s after winning four national championships in 1991, 1995, 1997 and 1999, its second year as a varsity sport.

When the Huskers make their 2000 debut in October, NU Coach Bill Straub doesn't expect a letdown from his young but talented squad.

"Despite our young talent, we hope to make a run toward another successful season, and to keep adding to our trophy case," Straub said.

Straub knows the road leading to another national championship will challenge the Huskers. Nebraska, ranked No. 1 in the preseason poll, will face a difficult schedule. The Huskers will meet at least one top five team at each of their 11 tournaments. NU will face the No. 2 team in the country, Morehead State, five times.

The 2000-2001 NU squad consists of four returning letterwinners: juniors Diandra Hyman, Amanda O'Hayre, and Christine Couvillon, and sophomore Kari Schwager.

Leading the way is Hyman, one of the most celebrated bowlers in school history. Last year, Hyman averaged a national-best 212.57 per game and earned the 1999-2000 Collegiate Bowler-of-the-Year award. The reigning U.S. National women's amateur champion, Hyman is a two-time first-team All-American and a member of the U.S. National Team.

Coach Straub is not only looking to Hyman for an exceptional 2000-2001 season, but also to O'Hayre, who averaged 201.533 in her 12 tournament appearances, Couvillon and Schwager.

"They (O'Hayre, Couvillon and Schwager) have developed to where they will be major contributors to what I feel will be a very good team for the upcoming season," Straub said.

Other players contending for top spots include sophomore Ashleigh Hicken, junior Amanda Yost, and two redshirt freshman, Christina Perez and Suzanne Medwell.

"Perez and Medwell will push to replace returning starters and garner some well-deserved playing time for themselves," Straub said.

Straub is also optimistic about Nebraska's incoming freshmen. NU nabbed the 2000 U.S. High School Player of the Year, Shannon Pluhowsky from Phoenix, Ariz. and the Pennsylvania High School Player of the Year, JoAnn Schmidt of Middletown, Pa.

Songs of the University of Nebraska

The Alma Mater

Refrain:

Nebraska, Nebraska
We pledge you our true loyalty
Nebraska, Nebraska
A good life for you and for me.

Verse 1

We have scarlet and cream as our colors
And we wear them proudly to our games
For the Pride of the Cornhusker legend
And for the school that we cherish to remain.

Refrain

Verse 2

Here to learn for an undiscovered future
And to build from a classical past
We are proud of our dear Alma Mater
We'll support her to help her always last.

Refrain

Verse 3

When the moon shone bright on the colors,
And those memories make you say,
When we kissed on that night at the columns
And the sun shone bright on Ivy Day.

Refrain

There Is No Place Like Nebraska

There is no place like Nebraska,
Dear old Nebraska U,
Where the girls are the fairest,
The boys are the squarest,
Of any old place that you know.
There is no place like Nebraska,
Where they're all true blue,
We'll all stick together in all kinds of weather,
For dear old Nebraska U.

Hail Varsity

Hail to the team,
The stadium rings as everyone sings,
The scarlet and cream.
Cheer on for victory
Echo your loyalty,
So on mighty men,
The eyes of the land,
Upon every hand are looking at you.
Fight on to victory,
Hail the men of Nebraska U.

The Official Field Song for Nebraska

Come a runnin' boys,
Don't you hear that noise
Like the thunder in the skies,
How it rolls along
In the good old song,
For the sons of Nebraska.
Now its coming near with a rising cheer
That will sweep all foes away.
So, with all our vim,
We will fight to win,
And we're going to win today.

Chorus

For Nebraska and the Scarlet,
For Nebraska and the Cream,
Tho they go through many a battle,
Our colors are still seen.
So in contest and in victory,
We will wave then for the team,
And 'twill always stir a Cornhusker,
The Old Scarlet and Cream.

Husker Volleyball

John Cook

The Nebraska volleyball team will bear a totally new look in 2000, but Husker fans are optimistic the results will be the same.

After 22 years as Nebraska's head coach, Terry Pettit retired from coaching after winning his 20th Big Eight/Big 12 Conference title and leading Nebraska to its 18th consecutive NCAA Tournament appearance before handing the reins over to one of college volleyball's top young coaches, John Cook. After building Wisconsin into a top 10 program, Cook left the Badgers to take the position as associate head coach for the Huskers in 1999.

Cook's new staff, consisting of Staci Wolfe and Craig Skinner, is poised to take the Huskers to the NCAA Final Four for the seventh time in school history.

Cook's biggest challenge will be replacing two-time All-American Nancy Meendering, who will redshirt this season after training with the U.S. Olympic Team during the offseason. The result will be a more balanced offense, directed by sophomore Greichaly Cepero.

The Puerto Rican native will handle the sole setting responsibilities after the Huskers ran a two-setter offense in 1999. The Big 12 Freshman of the Year, Cepero earned first-team All-Big 12 honors as an outside hitter and will give Nebraska a sixth attacker in the lineup this season.

She will have a pair of talented middle blockers as her primary targets in 6-2 junior Jenny Kropp and 6-4 sophomore Amber Holmquist. Arguably the best blocking tandem in the Big 12, Holmquist ranked second in the league in blocks per game as a true freshman, while Kropp ranked fourth. An honorable-mention All-Big 12 selection, Holmquist also led the conference with the top hitting percentage, a .377 mark in conference games.

Senior Kim Behrends, sophomore Laura Pilakowski and freshman Anna Schrad will staff the outside hitter position. Senior Angie Oxley, a three-year starter at outside hitter, will move to the right side this season in order to give the Huskers an experienced, steady attacker to fill in for Meendering.

Sophomore Lindsay Wischmeier, who shared the setting duties as a freshman, will take over as a defensive specialist this season. Senior setter Jill McWilliams, will give the Huskers experience on the bench and will be ready to take over at any point in a match.

Sophomore middle blocker Pam Krejci will also be counted on after a strong offseason, while freshman outside hitter Rachel Baumstark will likely redshirt.

HuskerVision: Enhancing Husker Fans' Excitement

Seven years ago, Nebraska Director of Athletics Bill Byrne had a "vision" to make Memorial Stadium the first college football stadium in the country to have big screen replay boards. Some people doubted that a college venue could make a project this big a reality, and they wondered if the screens would detract from the game itself.

However, when HuskerVision became a reality in 1994, Byrne's vision proved to be correct, as the big screen replay boards were an instant hit with the fans, enhancing their Husker game-day experience.

With its replay boards, the University of Nebraska became the first college football team in the country to have instant replay boards at an exclusive college venue. The only other college games which previously had boards available were those played in stadiums which are home to professional football teams.

The screens stand 17 feet high, by 23 feet wide, (388 square feet), and each screen is formed by more than 90,000 lighting dots. These dots form 5,632 lighting elements, units and module cabinets, plus video processing electronics are manufactured by Mitsubishi Electronics. The cost of the system is being paid entirely by commercial sponsorships.

Beside the obvious advantage of being able to view replays and game action on two huge screens, HuskerVision has made several other changes to game day at Memorial Stadium.

First, the screens are the most important ingredient to one of the most dramatic team entrances in all of sports. Along with a 30,000 watt sound system, the replay boards help make "The Tunnel Walk" part of the atmosphere of Nebraska football.

HuskerVision's contributions to Memorial Stadium have not gone unnoticed by Nebraska fans. In a survey of season ticket holders, fans mentioned HuskerVision as one of the most worthwhile additions to Memorial Stadium in many years.

Like the Husker football team, the HuskerVision crew spends the week before a home game developing its own game plan. Starting on Sunday before a home game, the crew produces features for Saturday's game and spends much of the week preparing graphics, mug shots and other clips and features which appear on the boards throughout the game.

Game day is showtime for the HuskerVision crew. On a home Saturday, Director of HuskerVision Jeff Schmahl is in charge of eight control room personnel as well as five other members of the staff who are operating cameras on the field. Also operating in conjunction with much of HuskerVision's features is public address announcer Rich Schwieger as well as producer/director's Kirk Hartman, Michelle Glover, and Brandon Verzal and engineer's Shot Kleen and Jon Barnett. 24 University of Nebraska broadcast journalism students make up the majority of the HuskerVision staff.

HuskerVision is housed in the state-of-the-art Michael Grace Production Studio located on the concourse level of West Stadium. Made possible by a generous donation in honor of former football player and NU Foundation fund-raiser Michael Grace, this area includes office space to accommodate four full-time employees and a staff of interns and student assistants. In addition, a broadcast quality control room, nonlinear editing room and a television production studio allow the HuskerVision staff to produce a multitude of video productions.

Last year, HuskerVision produced more than 100 television shows, including the Frank Solich Show, the Nebraska Football Kickoff Show, as well as coaches shows for men's and women's basketball, volleyball and the Olympic sports at Nebraska.

This season, The Frank Solich Show will be produced Saturday night after each game for a statewide broadcast on Sundays. In addition, The Husker Football Kickoff Show and Husker Volleyball Show will also be aired during the fall. During the basketball season, The Barry Collier and Paul Sanderford basketball shows will be broadcast on a statewide basis. Throughout the year, the Husker Show, an Olympic sports magazine program, features many of Nebraska's 24 varsity programs.

HuskerVision's duties also include the production of highlight tapes for all 24 varsity sports and running the new video board in the Bob Devaney Sports Center. The HuskerVision crew has annually produced and marketed highlight tapes on the Nebraska football season. Over the past six years, more than 100,000 tapes have been purchased by NU football fans.

Last fall, HuskerVision expanded to the Bob Devaney Sports Center. Two giant replay boards were installed on the East and West upper ends of the Sports Center that gave Husker fans a chance to view replays, features and other entertaining elements made possible by big screens. The Devaney Center HuskerVision boards are nearly the same size in terms of square footage as the screens in Memorial Stadium. The Devaney screens are among the largest indoor boards in the world, measuring 15 feet high and 26 feet wide, which makes their size compatible with the new HDTV wide screen format. These wide screen aspect ratio screens are part of a 162-foot wide display system on each end of the Devaney Center.

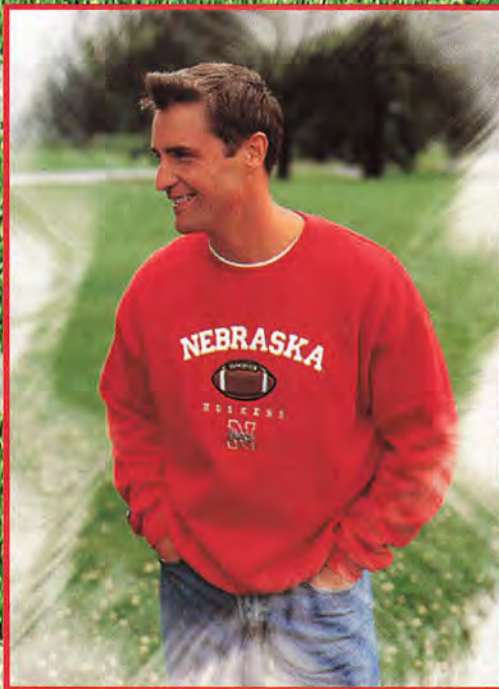

HuskerVision uses "cutting edge" technology to get their signal from the control room to the screens. The current control room in Memorial Stadium is used to send the signal to the Devaney Center screens. This is possible via fiber optic cable which allows multiple video and audio signals to travel long distances using this new technology.

Long known for having one of the best atmospheres in all of college football, Memorial Stadium has become an even better venue for fans with the addition of HuskerVision, making it one of the best stadiums in all of college football.

The state-of-the-art Michael Grace Production Studio, located on the West Stadium Concourse, helps the HuskerVision crew produce more than 100 shows during the year.

Bowl Championship Series Information

Starting in 1998, the Bowl Championship Series (BCS) determined the Division I-A National Champion in football. In the BCS's first season, Tennessee defeated Florida State, 23-16, in the Fiesta Bowl to claim the national title. Last year, it was Florida State's turn as the Seminoles topped Virginia Tech 46-29 in the Sugar Bowl for their second national title in seven years.

The BCS Series consists of the Rose Bowl, Sugar Bowl, Orange Bowl and the Fiesta Bowl. Conferences with automatic berths include the Atlantic Coast, Big East, Big Ten, Big 12, Pac-10 and the Southeastern conferences.

At the conclusion of the 2000 regular season, the Orange Bowl will host the national championship contest. The game will be played on Jan. 3 at 7 p.m. in Miami. The Orange Bowl shall select the top two teams ranked in the BCS final regular season standings.

This past January, BCS members voted to extend the BCS agreement with ABC through the 2005 regular season and 2006 bowl season allowing each of the four bowls to host two national championship games.

The BCS also notes the importance of regional consideration regarding team selection. Specifically, as a member of the BCS, the Rose Bowl will host the Big Ten and Pac-10 champions in those years in which either the Rose Bowl does not have the national championship game or the Big Ten and Pac-10 champion is not ranked No. 1 or No. 2. Other "regional consideration" tie-ins include the SEC champion in the Sugar Bowl, the ACC or Big East champion in the Orange Bowl and the Big 12 champion in the Fiesta Bowl.

Any Division I-A independent team or the champion of any Division I-A conference which is ranked sixth or higher in the BCS standings, will also be eligible for the Bowl Championship Series.

A year ago, over 1.2 million fans attended college football's 23 bowl games. This season, there will be 25 post-season bowl games, from the 87th Annual Rose Bowl, to the first-year galleryfurniture.com Bowl in Houston, Texas and the Silicon Valley Bowl in San Jose, Calif.

Other BCS games following the 2000 regular season include Rose Bowl on Jan. 1 at 4 p.m. CST, Fiesta Bowl on Jan. 1 at 7:30 p.m. CST and the Sugar Bowl on Jan. 2 at 7 p.m. CDT.

HUSKERS IN THE PROS

NFL Pipeline

The Huskers are not only some of the nation's best prepared players for collegiate competition, but Nebraska's student-athletes are prepared for life after college as well. Nebraska consistently beats the odds by sending more than the national average to the pros. Nebraska tied for the Big 12 lead last year with 33 former Huskers active in the NFL.

Sheldon Jackson

Grant Wistrom, Nebraska's fourth Lombardi Award winner, was a defensive leader on the 2000 Super Bowl Champion St. Louis Rams. Wistrom made 32 solo tackles, including 6.5 sacks, and returned two interceptions for touchdowns in 2000.

Pittsburgh Steelers' kicker Kris Brown tied an NFL record when he opened his career with 13 consecutive field goals in 1999. Brown ranks as Nebraska's all-time leading scorer.

Husker NFL Facts

- ▶ In the Bob Devaney, Tom Osborne and Frank Solich era, NU has had 242 players drafted, increasing the average to 6.5.
- ▶ Nebraska is tied for 10th on the NFL's all-time first-round draft list with 30, including 11 first-round selections in the last 14 drafts.
- ▶ Mike Brown and Steve Warren were both selected in the first three rounds of the 2000 NFL Draft.
- ▶ In the 90s Nebraska saw 66 players drafted to NFL teams.
- ▶ In addition to the numerous ball carriers and interior blockers NU has provided to the NFL in the last 11 years, the Huskers have had 20 receivers drafted or signed as free agents, and 16 defensive backs have been selected in the last eight drafts.

BAR & GRILL
9th & Q, Lincoln, Neb.

There's a new look to our place, but Barry's still has the biggest menu around. Come and see us again and celebrate the changes while enjoying the same service and food you have come to expect.

Almost a half century of tradition. Headquarters for all your Husker rallies.

Grill open 11 a.m. to 10 p.m.

We're always looking for solutions. For instance, the airlines' top complaints are lack of leg room and lost luggage. We suggest more leg room in the lost luggage waiting area. If you're a horse and someone gets on you, falls off and gets right back on, you should buck him off right away. Remember sometimes you can use a foreign language to make your point. Consider French. Open a conversation with On t'a bercé trop près du mur? Which means "As a child, was your cradle rocked too close to the wall?"

Husker Wheel Club

Automobile Dealers in Nebraska are contributing a large measure of help to the University of Nebraska athletic program through the loan of courtesy cars. Like other programs which are a part of the Cornhusker booster group activities, this project enables the Nebraska Athletic Department to make greater use of its funds. These sports-minded dealers around the state have earned a debt of gratitude from the University of Nebraska Athletic Department. They are an important part of the "team," which includes players, coaches, administration, faculty, staff, students, alumni, the Husker Educational Award group, the Husker Athletic Fund and the courtesy car program.

The NCAA—Common Ground of College Athletics

By Debbie Harmison Byrne, Assistant Athletics Director, Old Dominion University

It was the flying wedge, football's major offense in 1905, that spurred the formation of the NCAA in December 1905. Numerous sport-related injuries and deaths had prompted many institutions to discontinue the sport. Others were urging that football be reformed or abolished completely from intercollegiate athletics.

So in 1905, President Theodore Roosevelt summoned college athletics leaders to two White House conferences to encourage such reforms. The Intercollegiate Athletic Association of the United States was officially constituted on March 31, 1906. There were 62 charter members. In 1910, it took its present name of the National Collegiate Athletic Association and, for several years, served primarily as a discussion group and rules-making body.

Now, more than 1,200 colleges, universities, conferences and related organizations count on the NCAA to be the organization through which they speak. It is a voluntary association devoted to the sound administration of intercollegiate athletics.

Through the NCAA, member institutions consider an athletics problem that has crossed regional or conference lines and has become national in scope. The Association, through its members, strives to maintain intercollegiate athletics as an integral part of the educational program and the athletes as an integral part of the student body. The NCAA also stands for good conduct in intercollegiate athletics and serves as the colleges' national athletics accreditation agency.

The organization and its members recognize that creating an equitable college environment for its student-athletes is among their highest priorities. Working together to enact rules, policies, procedures and organizational goals, its members strive for the common goal of academic integrity for their programs.

Just as integrity is key for the academic process, it is also a component in the competition among NCAA institutions. The NCAA and its staff is charged with enforcing the rules and regulations that the institutions vote and impose on themselves.

While enforcement proceedings involving member schools seem to grab most of the headlines, they represent only a small part of the NCAA's total program.

The NCAA administered its first national championship in 1921—the National Collegiate Track and Field Championships. Today, the NCAA administers 81 championships in 22 sports for its member institutions, involving more than 24,000 men and women student-athletes. There are 24 championships on the Division I level, 23 on the Division II level and 24 for Division III members, along with 10 sports that have National Collegiate Championships for which all divisions are eligible.

Beyond its annual championships, the NCAA also places a high priority on honoring its members and student-athletes, evident in its honors program and postgraduate scholarships program. The honors program recognizes accomplishments of current and former outstanding student-athletes, while the postgraduate scholarship program annually honors 154 high-ranking college student-athletes who are in their last year of intercollegiate competition by providing them scholarships of $5,000 each. The NCAA also recognizes the need to assist its members in career development in collegiate athletics and has addressed this area through its women's and ethnic minority enhancement programs.

The NCAA Hall of Champions opened in the fall of 1990. It presents a photographic and video salute to intercollegiate athletics both past and present in a 12,000-square foot facility at the Association's national office building. Visitors to the hall are treated to specially prepared multimedia presentations in a spacious and modern theater and can feel the excitement of center court at the Final Four and the kickoff of college football games in uniquely designed photo displays.

The NCAA's members form a diverse group ranging from large state institutions to small, privately funded colleges. Their common goal, however, is the same—working for the advancement and achievement of the student-athlete and for the common good of higher education. ■

Miller's Confidence, Maturity Helps Huskers

Willie Miller

By Jeff Griesch

At 6-1, 250 pounds with massive shoulders and legs like tree trunks, Willie Miller is a scary physical specimen.

Now imagine how scary Miller would look to you if he were wearing a helmet and shoulder pads and had a full head of steam coming at you while you tried to fill the hole as an opposing linebacker.

"I'm the one who takes care of the playside guy, the guy who fills the hole," Miller said. "My thrill on the football field comes from knocking somebody flat, so the tailback can score. My thrill comes when we score a touchdown on a pass after I level the linebacker."

If you were that linebacker, you would probably see Miller as the enormous blocking monster that he has become in a Nebraska running game that ranked fourth nationally with 265.9 yards per game in 1999 and is out to lead the nation in 2000.

What you wouldn't see is Miller's friendly smile and kind eyes. You would miss his gentle demeanor and the quiet confidence he has developed during his Husker career.

Miller's career began after an outstanding high school career at Bellevue West. He earned high school All-America honors for the Thunderbirds, rushing for 3,062 yards in his career, including a school-record 1,527 yards and 18 touchdowns as a senior in 1995.

After redshirting as a freshman in 1996, Miller battled a variety of injuries from a hamstring, to a torn rotator cuff in his shoulder, to a groin injury and abdominal surgery, while serving as a backup to Joel Makovicka in 1997 and 1998.

In those two seasons, Miller rushed for a total of 145 yards on 29 carries in 20 games. He battled his confidence and his dislike for blocking to earn a starting job in 1999.

"Honestly, when I first came here and in my first couple of years, I hated blocking," Miller said. "It was really just a mental thing. Now I love it. I love getting it done, and I love improving my technique whenever possible. If they gave something comparable to the Heisman Trophy for blocking improvement, I think I would win it."

Nebraska Running Backs Coach Dave Gillespie would probably give Miller a vote.

"Willie has improved so much as a blocker. He has really learned about blocking angles and using his hips. He has made himself into an excellent blocker," Gillespie said. "He has always had the power and the speed to be a great runner, so he gives our offense that added big-play threat."

Miller showed that big-play potential in his first year as a starter in 1999, rushing for 195 yards on 55 carries with a pair of touchdowns. He added a breakout game with 87 yards on eight carries, including a career-long 47-yard burst in Nebraska's 31-21 win over Tennessee in the 2000 Tostitos Fiesta Bowl.

That performance and his growing confidence with the Nebraska offense has Miller focused on big things in 2000.

"We want to bring back the power running game because that is our trademark at Nebraska," Miller said. "When we went to the bowl game last year, our opponent was talking about how we weren't a power football team. That put us on a mission that has carried into this year. We are focused on bringing back the mentality of Nebraska power football."

Miller's confidence on the football field has also carried over into his personal life, according to Head Coach Frank Solich.

"Willie is a very confident player now, not only is he confident in his football ability, but he is confident where he is going in life," Solich said. "He has matured in a lot of ways. He is married, and his feet are very much on solid ground. He knows what he wants out of football, and he knows what he wants out of life, and he's making them both happen."

Miller married Kimberly Cowgill on June 3, 2000. He said his relationship with her has helped him put football in perspective.

"She's a great woman. We grew together in Christ, and we got married. I knew she was the one early in our relationship," Miller said. "It has been wonderful. She helps keep me focused because I have someone to come home to and share my day. I've really been blessed."

Guidelines for NU Athletic Department Boosters

The University of Nebraska Athletic Department takes great pride in abiding by the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) and the Big 12 Conference rules and guidelines that govern Division I competition. For the benefit of the many alumni, fans and booster club members who are so active in supporting and assisting the Huskers throughout the year, we would like to remind everyone of a few definitions and rules that apply to all athletic representatives and boosters.

NCAA Principles

Institutional Control

It is the responsibility of the University of Nebraska to control its intercollegiate athletic program in compliance with the rules and regulations of the NCAA.

Responsibility

The University of Nebraska's responsibility for the conduct of its program includes responsibility for the actions of its staff members and for the actions of any other individual, booster or organization engaged in activities promoting the athletic interests of the institution.

Compliance

The University of Nebraska must monitor its program to assure compliance and to identify and report to the NCAA instances in which compliance has not been achieved. An institution found to have violated NCAA rules is subject to disciplinary and corrective actions as determined by the NCAA.

NCAA Definitions

Athletic Representative/Booster

You are considered to be a University of Nebraska athletic representative if you:

- ▶ Are a present or past member of a University of Nebraska booster club or agency that promotes the Huskers' intercollegiate athletic program;
- ▶ Have made financial contributions to the athletic department or to an athletic booster organization of the University of Nebraska;
- ▶ Are, or have been, providing benefits (e.g., summer jobs, meals etc.) to enrolled student-athletes, their family members or friends;
- ▶ Are, or have been involved in any manner of promoting the University of Nebraska intercollegiate athletic program.

Please note: Once an individual is identified as an athletic representative, that person retains that identity indefinitely. The University of Nebraska is ultimately responsible for the acts of all "representatives of athletic interests" in relation to NCAA rules and regulations.

Prospective Student-Athlete

A prospective student-athlete is a student who has started classes for the ninth grade or above, including students in prep schools and junior colleges as well as students who have officially withdrawn from a four-year institution and plan to transfer to another institution. In addition, a student who has not started classes for the ninth grade becomes a prospective student-athlete if the institution or a booster provides the individual or the individual's relatives or friends with any financial assistance or benefits that the institution does not provide to prospective students in general. A good rule of thumb is to treat ALL STUDENTS as prospects.

Student-Athlete

A student-athlete is a student whose enrollment was solicited by a member of the athletic staff or other representative of athletic interests with a view toward the student's ultimate participation in the intercollegiate athletics program.

Contact

A contact is any face-to-face encounter between a prospect, or the prospect's parent or legal guardian, and an institutional staff member or athletic representative during which any dialogue occurs.

Recruiting

Recruiting is any solicitation of a prospect or a prospect's family member (or guardian) by an institutional staff member or by athletic representative of the institution, for the purpose of securing the prospect's enrollment and ultimate participation in the institution's intercollegiate athletic program.

Guidelines and Reminders for Boosters

- ▶ A booster may not contact the prospect, prospect's coach, principal or counselor in an attempt to evaluate or recruit the prospect.
- ▶ A booster may not expend funds to entertain or provide transportation for a prospective student-athlete, family members or friends.
- ▶ A booster may not become directly or indirectly involved in making arrangements for a prospect, or the prospect's relative or friends to receive money or financial aid of any kind.
- ▶ A booster may not contact a prospective student-athlete through letter writing, telephone calling or other forms of communication.

However, here are a few ways that a Husker Booster may be involved:

- ▶ Do discuss summer employment opportunities with a prospect after he/she has signed a National Letter of Intent with the University of Nebraska.
- ▶ Do attend high school athletic events without contacting prospective student-athletes.
- ▶ Do continue existing friendships with families and friends of prospective student-athletes.
- ▶ Do send recommendation letters, newspaper clipping or similar information about prospective student-athletes to Husker coaches.

Extra Benefits Guidelines and Reminders for Boosters

Extra Benefit

An extra benefit is any special arrangement by an institutional employee or an athletic representative to provide a student-athlete or the student-athlete's relative or friend a benefit not expressly authorized by NCAA legislation.

Boosters may not provide any special arrangement considered to be an extra benefit by NCAA definition. Examples of extra benefits include but are not limited to:

- ▶ Providing cash or loans of any amount;
- ▶ Signing or co-signing for a loan or other forms of financial assistance;
- ▶ Providing the use of a telephone to make local or long distance calls;
- ▶ Transporting a student-athlete or providing the use of a vehicle;
- ▶ Providing free or reduced rent housing;
- ▶ Giving gifts of any kind (i.e. birthday, Christmas, Valentine's Day);
- ▶ Promising a student-athlete post-graduate education or employment;
- ▶ Offering free services (i.e. clothing, airline tickets, laundry, car repair, haircuts, restaurant meals);
- ▶ Providing payment to a student-athlete for a booster club speaking engagement;
- ▶ Providing employment for relatives or friends.

However, here are a few ways that a Husker booster may help:

- ▶ Do invite a student-athlete to participate in non-profit, charitable or educational events.
- ▶ Do invite a student-athlete into your home for an occasional meal.
- ▶ Do contact the NU Athletic Compliance Office for approval prior to a student-athlete engaging in outside speaking or promotional activities.
- ▶ Do pay a student-athlete the commensurate rate for actual and legitimate employment.

For further information regarding NCAA Guidelines for Athletic Representatives, please contact the Athletic Compliance Office at (402) 472-2042 or 1-(800) 927-7220. Inquiries may also be mailed to the Athletic Compliance Office at 300 West Stadium, P.O. Box 880219, Lincoln, NE 68588-0219 or faxed to (402) 472-4609.

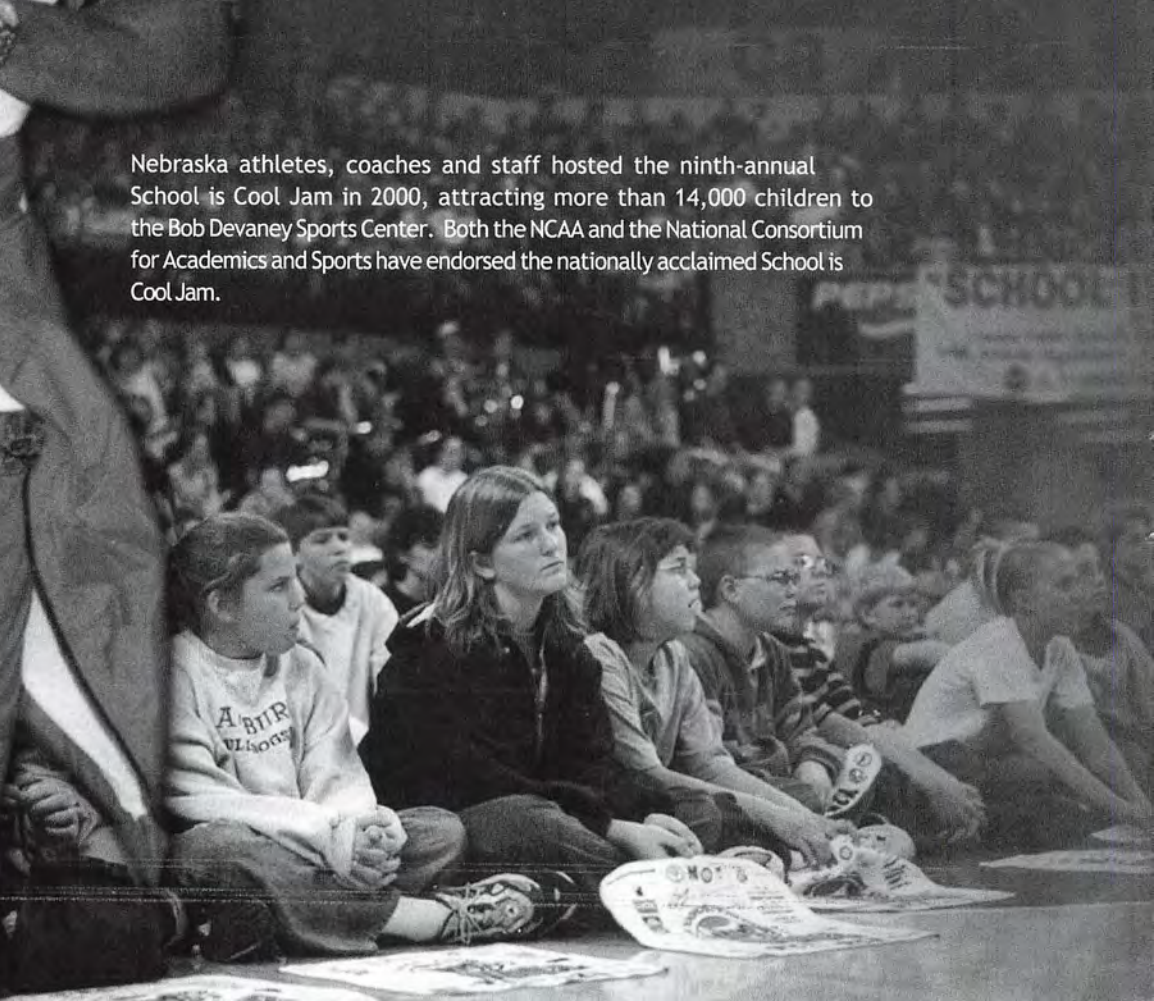

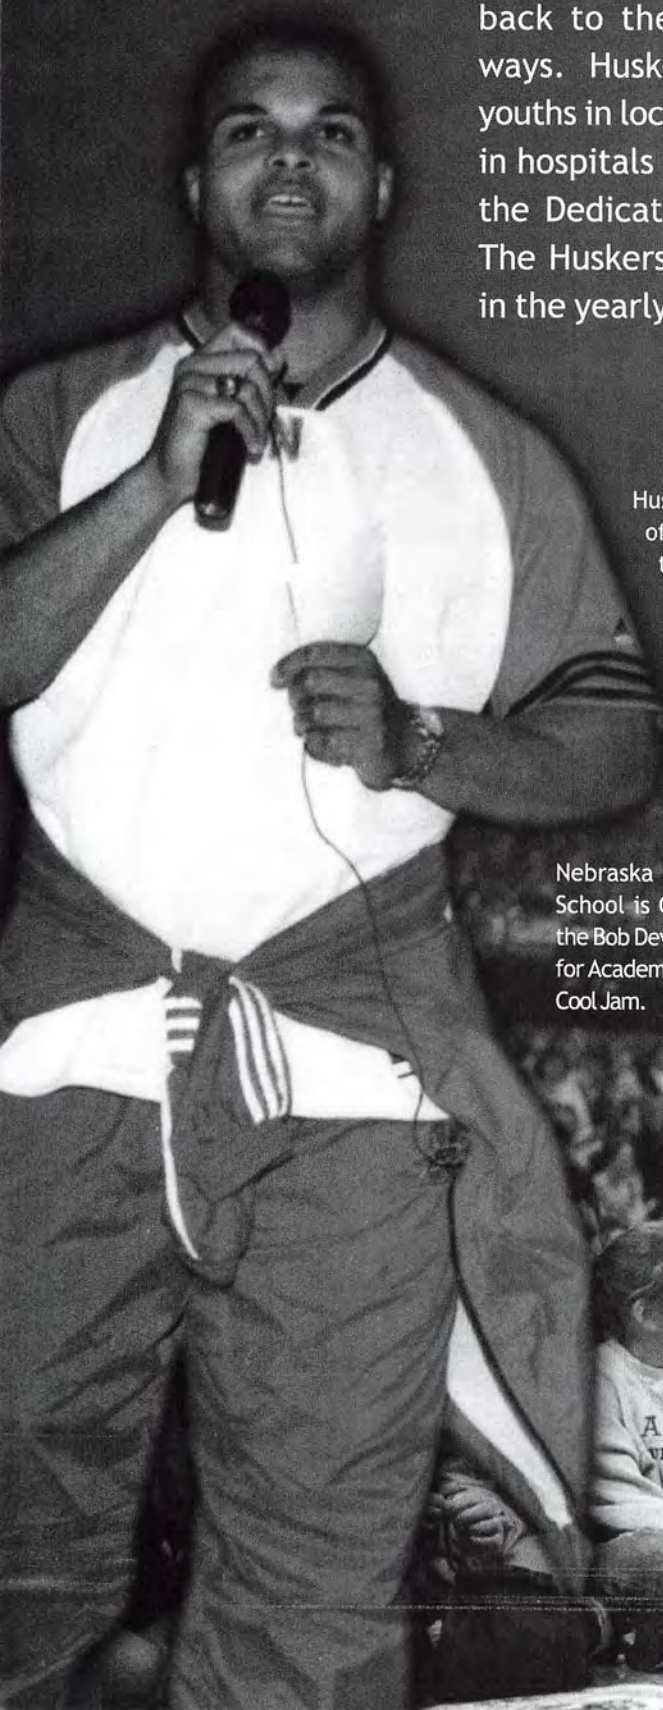

OUTREACH

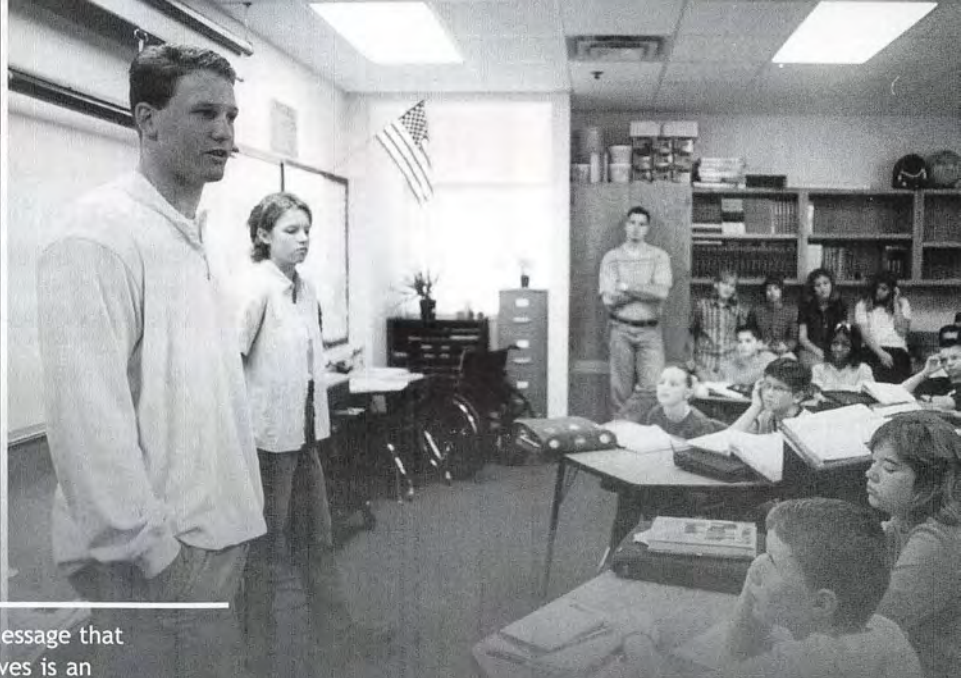

Giving Back

The Nebraska football team gives back to the community in many ways. Husker players help mentor youths in local schools, visit children in hospitals and travel the state on the Dedicated to Excellence tour. The Huskers also play a large part in the yearly "School is Cool" Jam.

Husker running back Dan Alexander is a member of the NCAA's Good Works team and was named to all four Brook Berringer Citizenship Teams. Alexander represents the University of Nebraska during the summer months as a Husker Ambassador.

Nebraska athletes, coaches and staff hosted the ninth-annual School is Cool Jam in 2000, attracting more than 14,000 children to the Bob Devaney Sports Center. Both the NCAA and the National Consortium for Academics and Sports have endorsed the nationally acclaimed School is Cool Jam.

The ability to deliver a motivational message that positively influences young people's lives is an intrinsically rewarding benefit of being a Husker.”

-Brian Shaw, B.K. Division I Scholar-Athlete of the Year

Husker team members visit children in area high schools and also find time to share with kids on bowl trips, where the players have visited children in hospitals.

Special Olympics, the Big 12's official charity, is aided by the entire University of Nebraska athletic department. The Lincoln chapter of Special Olympics attended select press conferences and media day in 1999.

Pinnacle Sports Productions

Pinnacle Sports Productions begins its fifth year of producing and marketing the live broadcasts of the University of Nebraska football, men's and women's basketball, volleyball, baseball and softball games. Pinnacle was first awarded the broadcast rights on Feb. 9, 1996. The University renewed the Pinnacle Contract in May, 2000 worth $10.4 million over an additional five-year term to begin Aug. 1, 2001 and to end July 31, 2006.

Criteria used in evaluating bids included guaranteed annual fees; confidence in the bidder's ability to realize such fees; ability to put together a network; additional proposed programming; availability of a viable radio production facility and personnel; coverage of women's sports; other sports coverage committed; air wave coverage of the state of Nebraska and key out-of-state locations; and willingness and ability to promote the University of Nebraska in all areas, including non-athletic concerns.

Pinnacle Sports Productions is owned by Paul Aaron of Elkhorn, Neb., and Dale Jensen of Phoenix, Ariz.

Pinnacle Sports Productions heads up a large network of state and national affiliates, allowing Husker games to be heard nationwide. For the 2000 season, KKAR (1290 AM) and KZFX (101.9 FM) are the Omaha affiliates and KLIN (1400 AM) and KFGE (98.1 FM) are the Lincoln affiliates. As of press time, Pinnacle Sports had put together a 59-station network, including 37 in-state and 22 out-state stations, covering 14 states.

The Pinnacle Sports Productions staff includes Paul Aaron, President; John Andrews, General Manager; Patricia Aaron, Marketing; Colleen Hitz, Marketing and Sales Manager; Jamie Linn, Marketing; David Lacey, Business Manager; Mike Elliott, Technical Director; Terri Elliott, Producer; Lesia Woodruff, Billing and Traffic Director.

Pinnacle Sports Announcers

Veteran sportscaster Warren Swain begins his fifth year as the play-by-play voice of Husker football and men's basketball. Swain has been in the sports radio business for nearly three decades and was the radio voice of University of Virginia football, basketball and lacrosse from 1986 to 1996.

Swain has also held play-by-play assignments at Drake University, the University of Oregon, Iowa State University and Hastings College. Swain was named Virginia Sportscaster of the Year six times, most recently in 1994, as well as earning Iowa and Oregon Sportscaster-of-the-Year honors.

After growing up in the Midwest, Swain welcomed the opportunity to work with the University of Nebraska.

Former Husker Adrian Fiala provides color for football broadcasts. Fiala played football (linebacker) and baseball (catcher) for the Huskers (1967-69). Fiala previously provided color commentary for KFOR radio in Lincoln, working with Ray Scott, Tim Moreland and Dick Perry. Since 1985, he has worked as the analyst for telecasts of the Omaha Golden Spikes games on the Nebraska ETV Network and in Omaha, on Cox cable. He has provided color commentary for the Nebraska baseball team for the past 10 seasons.

Jim Rose joins Swain and Fiala in the broadcast booth each week for his comments and insights. Rose is also the women's basketball play-by-play announcer and is the program director at KLIN. Sideline reports are delivered by KKAR's Gary Java. Other announcers and studio personnel include, KLIN's John Bishop, John Baylor and Gary Sharp.

Grades 10-11-12

Husker Soccer

Jenny Benson

After producing the best season in Nebraska soccer history in 1999, the Huskers want only one thing in 2000 -- more.

Nebraska advanced to the Elite Eight in the NCAA Tournament for the second time in school history and finished with a 22-1-2 record but came up one sudden death penalty kick short of its first trip to the Women's College Cup in San Jose, Calif. The Huskers did not advance after a four-overtime tie with Notre Dame in front of a school-record crowd of 3,702 at the Abbott Sports Complex.

Now, despite losing a senior class that included All-Americans Lindsey Eddleman, Isabelle Morneau, Sharolta Nonen and Amy Walsh, Coach John Walker and the Huskers think they have what it takes to repeat as Big 12 champions and advance to the Women's College Cup.

"We're not satisfied with what we accomplished last year," Walker said. "Sure it's nice to finish in the top five, but our goal is to get to the Final Four and win the national title. At Nebraska, the goal will always be to win the national championship."

The Huskers run for the Women's College Cup will be led by an experienced defense. Senior goalkeeper Karina LeBlanc, who ranked fifth nationally with a 0.51 goals-against average, returns after a summer as a starter for the Canadian National Team. Senior defender Christine Gluck, who has started 47 straight games, returns after earning All-Big 12 Tournament honors. Senior defender/midfielder Jenny Benson, who is Nebraska's all-time assist leader and one of the nation's most creative players, also returns as a three-time All-Big 12 pick.

Sophomore Breanna Boyd, who is a starting defender for the Canadian National Team, completes a solid backfield, while All-Big 12 midfielder Meghan Anderson is back to head Nebraska's attack. The junior from Omaha led the Huskers and ranked 18th nationally with 54 points on 21 goals and 12 assists.

Junior Shannon Tanaka and sophomore Kori Saunders should also find starting jobs in the midfield. Second-team All-Big 12 forwards Kelly Rheem and Christine Latham should help lead an offense that ranked second nationally with 4.32 goals per game in 1999. Juniors Becky Preston, Najah Williams and Danica Carey and senior Lauren Tatum will all battle for starting time in the midfield or at forward. Brooke Jones, Paige Phillips and Leah Lamale should see significant playing time.

Nebraska's returnees will be joined by a group of seven newcomers, including Lindsey Greenwood, Christy Harms, Kelly Haxton, Marie-Claude Henry, Becca Malesa, Erin Miller and Lacey Woolf.

"We want to finish our season in San Jose," Walker said. "We think we have the potential to get there."

Husker Rifle

Nicole Allaire

The Husker rifle team made history last year when it qualified for the NCAA Championships in just its second season. Not only did the Husker shooters fire their way to a third-place finish with three freshmen and two sophomores on the roster, but they were also the only all-female team in the competition.

Although it will be tough to duplicate last year's accomplishment, Head Coach Karen Anthony said she expects Nebraska to be among the top five teams in the country during the 2000-01 season.

"We will have excellent depth in air rifle, with five athletes capable of shooting 390 or better," Anthony said. "We're not as deep with the smallbore rifle, but we'll be significantly better than last year."

The Huskers will again rely on Nicole Allaire, who was named a National Rifle Association All-American in both air and smallbore rifles as a freshman. The reigning NCAA individual champion in the smallbore, Allaire also competed in the individual air rifle competition, placing 15th.

Nebraska will also be bolstered by the return of sophomore Amanda Trujillo, who earned second-team NRA All-America honors in both rifles, and junior Terim Richards, who finished fifth in the NCAA individual air rifle competition. Trujillo, who hails from Brush, Colo., placed ninth in the NCAA individual smallbore competition and could challenge for NRA first-team honors this year.

Lincoln native Rachel Spiry returns for her third season. The team leader, Spiry has added 66 points to her smallbore personal-best and has also improved in the air rifle.

Sophomore Victoria Ridge (Langhorne, Pa.) is also back and could challenge for a top-four spot on the smallbore team.

Three freshmen join the Huskers for the 2000-01 season, led by Heather Pissos from Wheeling, W.V. Pissos, a second-year member of the National Development team, finished second to Richards in air rifle and was the runner-up to Allaire in smallbore at the 2000 National Junior Olympic Shooting Championships.

The Huskers will also gain some international experience with the addition of Victoria, British Columbia, native Karen Aspden. Aspden, who shoots primarily air rifle, finished fourth at the 1999 Canadian National Rifle Championships and should contribute immediately to the team.

Rounding out the recruiting class is Melissa Downsborough from Bellefonte, Pa. Downsborough, only 17, competed at the 1999 USA Shooting National Championships, and should see marked improvement in her scores throughout the season, according to Anthony.

Husker Wrestling

Mark Manning

After three seasons as the head coach at Northern Iowa, Mark Manning will take over the helm of a Nebraska squad that finished eighth nationally last season and returns four NCAA qualifiers, three All-Americans and a national champion.

Although Manning is excited about his new position at Nebraska, he said he isn't quite sure when it will sink in that he is now a member of the scarlet and cream instead of the purple and gold of Northern Iowa.

"As the season gets going I think it will set in," Manning said. "This is a great opportunity for me professionally. I coach to help young men grow in wrestling and in life. I want to help each one of our team members meet their goals on and off the mat."

Manning will rely on senior Brad Vering to lead the Huskers toward those goals. Vering gave Nebraska its seventh national champion after defeating Iowa State's Zach Thompson in the 197-pound finals at the NCAA Championships in St. Louis last year. The Howells, Neb., native posted a 38-3 record during the 1999-2000 campaign and is at the top of InterMat's preseason rankings.

Senior Todd Beckerman enters the 2000-01 campaign as the second-ranked 133-pounder in the nation after earning his first All-America honor in 2000. Beckerman posted a 31-10 mark last season and was the team leader in major decision victories with 11.

Manning's third returning All-American is junior Bryan Snyder. The Easton, Pa., native was an All-American and Big 12 Champion at 157 pounds in both 1999 and 2000 and posted a 43-3 overall record, including a perfect 18-0 dual record last season. Snyder's 43 wins in 1999-2000 tied him for second on NU's single-season win chart.

Despite his regular season success, Snyder faltered at NAAs, falling in the first round. With that loss still fresh in his mind, Snyder will be ready and focused when March 15 rolls around in Iowa City, Iowa.

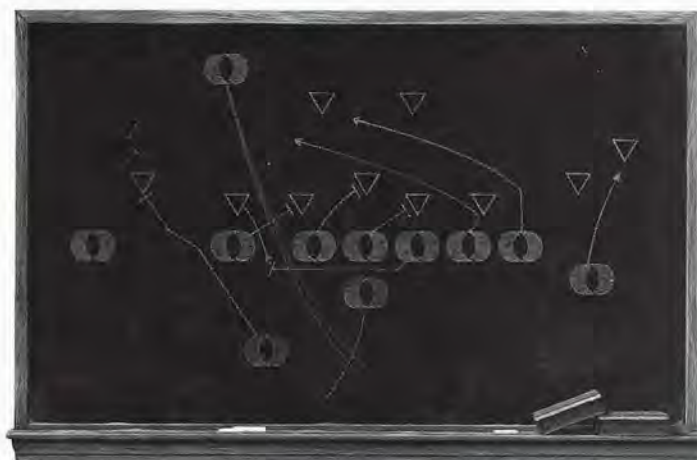

"Our whole regular season will prepare us for the NCAA tournament," Manning said. "Our guys will know that when they step on that mat in Iowa City, they need to be ready to go."

"I believe we have a number of guys who are very talented and have the wrestling experience to have a lot of success this season," Manning said. "We want to make a brand of wrestling that is exciting to watch."

Husker Women's Gymnastics

Amy Ringo

The question heading into the 2001 season for Nebraska Women's Gymnastics Coach Dan Kendig is what to do for an encore.

Last season, the Huskers went 25-5, won their first regional title in 17 seasons and placed fourth at the NCAA Championships, equaling the best finish at nationals in the program's 25-year history. In addition, Heather Brink won the NCAA all-around and vault titles, while also capturing the Honda Award, presented to the nation's top collegiate gymnast.

Despite the difficult task of replacing Brink and All-American Nicole Wilkinson, Kendig is optimistic about the upcoming campaign. The Huskers return six letterwinners, including a trio of All-Americans, and regain the services of Bree Dority O'Callaghan, who missed all of last season with a knee injury.

"We are excited about the upcoming season," said Kendig, who is 123-26 in seven seasons at NU. "We are going to miss Heather's consistency, but we will have a lot more routines to draw from because we gained five athletes and lost only two. On paper, we should be a better team than last season."

Much of the leadership will be provided by all-arounders Amy Ringo and A.J. Lamb, as the duo both earned All-America honors last season. The lone senior on the roster, Ringo was NU's most consistent all-arounder, scoring 39 or better in each of the last nine meets, placing fifth in the all-around at the Big 12 Championships and at the NCAA Region 3 Championships. Lamb made an immediate impact in her first season for the scarlet and cream, earning first-team All-America honors on floor exercise and finishing second in the all-around at regionals. She set freshman records in three events and was the Big 12 Co-Newcomer of the Year.

If the NCAA Championships were any indication, junior Laura Goss is poised to have a breakthrough season in 2001. The Austell, Ga., native scored 9.825 or better in all six of her routines at nationals, barely missing out on All-America honors on three events. She is also the Huskers' top returning vaulter, placing second at the Big 12 Championships with a career-best 9.90.

If Dority O'Callaghan can return to her freshman season form, the Huskers will have another top all-arounder in the lineup. She had an impressive freshman season in 1999, taking Big 12 Newcomer-of-the-Year honors and placing 17th in the all-around at the NCAAs in Salt Lake City with a career-best score of 39.175, barely missing out on All-America honors. O'Callaghan suffered a knee injury and was redshirted, but has been in the gym working on her routines since last spring.

In addition to Lamb, a trio of freshmen were mainstays in the NU lineup in 2000, and all have the potential to contend for conference and national honors this season. Julie Houk is the Huskers' third returning All-American. The sophomore from Hamilton, Ohio, won the Big 12 title on the uneven bars and was among the national leaders in the event all season. Fellow sophomores Jess Wertz and Jen French were both three-event performers last season. Wertz competed on all four events last season and is one of the Huskers' top performers on uneven bars and floor exercise, while French was one of NU's top beam workers and led off the Husker vault lineup last year.

Joining the returnees is one of the nation's top recruiting classes. Alicia Ingram was a former national team member who competed at the U.S. Nationals in late July. In addition, Gina Bruce, Tami Harris and Libby Landgraf all have extensive experience competing at Junior National competition.

Nebraska faces a tough schedule featuring the Masters Classic with LSU, North Carolina State and Denver the last weekend in February.

Husker Men's Gymnastics

Dusty Jakub

Nebraska men's gymnastics Coach Francis Allen predicts the Huskers will have luck on their side during the 2001 season after suffering though the unluckiest season in the program's history last year.

The Huskers lost national champions Jason Hardabura and Marshall Nelson as well as All-American Blake Bukacek to injuries in 2000.

"Last season, if we had not had the injuries that we did, there is not a doubt in my mind that we would have been a top competitor for the national championship," Allen said.

"But the thing is, this year's team could be even better than the squad we were going to have last year if everything goes according to plan and we have a little luck."

Allen has reason for optimism. Nebraska will field an experienced and talented squad despite the departure of a 2000 senior class that included one national champion and three All-Americans.

Jason Hardabura headlines the 2001 team. The 1999 NCAA all-around and floor exercise champion, Hardabura competed in just two meets during the 2000 season because of shoulder soreness. In late February, he underwent season-ending surgery to repair a torn labrum, fixing the tendon that connected his right shoulder to its socket.

Allen said Hardabura, who holds the NU record for all-around scores of 58 or higher in a single season with six, returned to full speed faster than expected.

"Even though Hardabura missed last season, he is still going to be a guy that everyone wants to beat," Allen said. "He has to be a favorite for the all-around title again this year."

The Huskers' second returning All-American is Dusty Jakub. A Lincoln High product, Jakub was a fixture in Nebraska's pommel horse and parallel bars lineups throughout the 2000 season before capturing All-America honors with a fifth-place finish in the parallel bars competition at the NCAA Championships in April.

Senior Grant Clinton and junior Martin Fournier also bring championship experience to the Nebraska lineup. Clinton advanced to the NCAA finals on high bar last season despite battling back and shoulder soreness throughout 2000. When healthy, Clinton competes in five events and is one of NU's best still rings performers.

Fournier competed in the all-around eight times for NU during the 2000 season and scored 54 or higher five times. His best event is parallel bars, where he captured three event titles.

"Martin Fournier will be a great gymnast," Allen said. "He hurt his wrist in December last year and never really recovered. I'm expecting much more out of him this year."

Junior Jeff Kelly, a ring specialist, and sophomores Nick Batliner and Ryan Sneed also return for NU. They will be joined by freshmen Steven Friedman, a South African national team member, and Orzata Iulian and Suciu Silviu, both Romanian national team members.

The three newcomers will not join the Huskers until the second semester because each will compete in the 2000 Olympics this fall.

"Both Romanian guys are tough, rugged gymnasts," Allen said. "They are scoring 56 all-arounds at the Olympic level, which is like a 57 or 58 in college. Steven Friedman is also very talented, and he's a great rings guy. I'm expecting to see terrific things from all three of the new guys."

[TURNER'S GLASSES]

Turner Gill left his helmet and shoulder pads behind to become a coach, a husband, and a father. That left him with little time to worry about contacts or glasses. So Turner went to Eye Surgical Associates and found out about their LASIK procedure. Turner went for it. And just one day after his painless surgery there was a new piece of equipment that he could retire—his glasses.

Husker Cross Country

Amie Jorgensen

With the loss of All-Big 12 Conference runner Michelle Brooks and 1999 team captain Jaime Pauli, the 2000 Nebraska women's cross country team would appear to be hard pressed to duplicate its 16th-place finish at last year's cross country championships.

In addition to Brooks and Pauli, the Huskers will also find themselves without the services of Jeannette Zimmer, who was Nebraska's top finisher in each of the meets in which she competed as a freshman. Zimmer, who was limited to four meets last year, was forced to give up running because of stress fractures in both legs.

However, NU Coach Jay Dirksen still has reason for optimism. Nebraska returns three runners from the 1999 squad that earned the program's highest finish at the national meet since 1994.

"I think we've got four pretty solid returnees, and we've added some really good freshmen," Dirksen said. "This is one of the toughest conferences in the nation, and we're hoping to place in the top half."

Leading this year's squad will be Amie (Finkner) Jorgensen (Kearney, Neb.) and Jaimie Kruger (Pierce, Neb.), a pair of seniors who were among Nebraska's top runners last season. Injuries have plagued Jorgensen her entire collegiate career, and she missed the 2000 indoor track season with a stress fracture. However, with a great spring track season in which she placed eighth at the conference meet in the 10,000-meter run, and a solid summer of training, Jorgensen is on pace to have her best season ever this fall.

Kruger, who now has a year of Division-I experience after transferring from Nebraska-Kearney in 1998, could battle for a spot in the top three.

Another returner who will compete for the top spot on the team is sophomore Kathryn Handrup (Aurora, Neb.). Handrup was consistently among the top four runners on the Husker squad despite starting her collegiate career on only half a summer of training because of injuries. Last season she finished 22nd in the competitive Big 12 and will look to improve that finish in 2000.

Also returning to the team is senior Deb Osteen (Clayton, Calif.), junior Jenna Lucas (Rapid City, S.D.) and sophomore Melissa Drozda (Omaha, Neb.).

Osteen has been slowed by a pelvic injury, which may cause her to redshirt this season.

Lucas (Rapid City, S.D.) could be among the top five runners on the team. Last year Lucas made tremendous strides in cross country and on the track, but Dirksen believes she has yet to reach her full potential.

Drozda (Omaha, Neb.), who struggled last season because of complications with her allergy medication, will also attempt to break the top seven. Sophomore Christy Linnell (Papillion, Neb.) has taken a little longer to adjust to running at the collegiate level, but after turning in some good races last year, she is expected to add depth to the team.

Dirksen has added three freshmen to the squad for the 2000 season, including Ann Gaffigan from Springfield, Ill. Gaffigan, the 1998 Illinois cross country champion, suffered from mononucleosis her junior year but rebounded to win the 2000 Illinois Class AA 3,200-meter run in a personal-best time of 10:27.6. If Gaffigan can adjust quickly to running at the collegiate level, Dirksen expects her to battle for the top spot on the squad and to rank among the top runners in the conference.

Joining Gaffigan are Morgan Hartman (Scottsbluff, Neb.) and Hillary Laird (Kansas City, Mo.). Hartman missed the entire high school cross country season because of injury but came on strong in the spring. She suffered a stress fracture before her high school district meet and just resumed training in July. Laird, the Missouri state two-mile Class AA champion, came on strong her senior year in high school and will provide depth to a strong Nebraska team.

The 2000 Husker men's cross country team could be the surprise of the year in the Big 12 Conference. The Huskers, a very young squad last year with four freshmen among the team's top seven runners, have gained a year of experience and hope to improve on last year's sixth-place finish at the conference meet.

"I'm really excited about our men's team," Dirksen said. "We have two seniors who are really good leaders, and that's something we haven't had in a while. We also gained three really solid recruits. I think that makes for a pretty darn good team."

Senior Marcus Witter (Kearney, Neb.), Nebraska's top runner in 1999, returns, along with classmate Aaron Carrizales (Morrill, Neb.), who ended the season as the Huskers' No. 2 runner.

Witter has made tremendous improvement throughout his collegiate career and has the potential to be among the top 10 runners in the conference, Dirksen said. Smith, a tough competitor and hard worker, could also be among the top runners in the league.

Last season Carrizales was knocking on the door of being one of the top 25 runners in the conference, finishing 31st at the Big 12 meet and 26th at the NCAA Regional meet.

The Huskers also boast six solid sophomores, who will battle for a spot in the top seven.

Perhaps the key to this year's squad is how Ian Gray (Eugene, Ore.) performs. Gray missed the first three meets of the season in 1999 while he recovered from a broken foot suffered the previous summer. Although inexperienced in collegiate racing, his ability to train at high levels should bridge that gap quickly.

Jed Barta (Idaho Falls, Idaho) struggled during the cross country season last year because of sinus trouble but has recovered and should be among the top five runners on the team.

Dirksen is also looking for big things from Mike Kamm (Bellevue, Wash.). Kamm came out of high school as a good track runner but surprised everyone with his ability on the cross country course. Another strong sophomore, James De Bruhl (Ontario, Calif.), is a very talented middle distance runner with tremendous speed and the ability to be a good distance runner.

Phillip Davis (Watertown, S.D.) and Hunter Kosman (Scottsbluff, Neb.) have improved and will add depth to an extremely talented team.

Three freshmen will join the squad but may find it hard to crack the team's top seven. Headlining this year's recruiting class is Eric Rasmussen (North Platte, Neb.), the Nebraska 3,200-meter champion. Joining him is Kyle Wyatt (Albion, Neb.), the Class C mile champion, and Jon Jenkerson (La Crosse, Wis.).

1970 National Champions - 11-0-1

Early in the 1970 season, Jerry Murtaugh predicted Nebraska would win the national championship. Murtaugh was a senior linebacker and co-captain who, in just three seasons, set the Cornhusker career record for tackles. A quarter of a century later, Murtaugh's mark still stands.

It was obvious that Murtaugh was capable of backing up whatever he said, which, in the case of the 1970 season was not without some justification. Nebraska had been 9-2 the previous season, winning its final seven games, including a decisive 45-6 victory against Georgia in the Sun Bowl.

After the Sun Bowl game, Georgia coach Vince Dooley said the Cornhuskers hadn't belonged in El Paso, Texas; they deserved better competition than his team could provide.

Still, 1970 was a new season. And though Nebraska had several starters returning on offense, Murtaugh was one of only three defensive starters returning. Dave Walline and Jim Anderson were the others.

Besides, winning a national championship wasn't something over which a team had complete control. It would depend not only on being successful, but also on the votes of writers and broadcasters in the Associated Press poll or of selected coaches in the United Press International poll.

Two games into the season, Murtaugh's brash prediction became a longshot, at best. After opening with a 36-12 victory against Wake Forest, the ninth-ranked Cornhuskers played Southern California to a 21-21 tie at the LA Coliseum. The Trojans tied the score with 8:16 remaining, after a failed 12-yard field goal attempt, resulting from a poor center snap, kept Nebraska from putting the game away.

"We should have won the game," Johnny Rodgers said years later.

Rodgers was a sophomore in 1970, his first varsity season.

A tie at USC was certainly no disgrace. Coach John McKay's team was ranked No. 3. Nebraska even moved up in the next week's Associated Press poll. But No. 8 was still a long way from No. 1.

And the Cornhuskers' record had a blemish, however slight.

Nebraska returned to Memorial Stadium to defeat Army 28-0 the next week, to begin what would be a 23-game winning streak and include not one but two national championships.

The Cornhuskers rolled through the Big Eight, moving up to No. 3 in the AP rankings after a 51-13 victory against No. 20 Kansas State in the next-to-last game of the regular season. Nebraska intercepted Wildcat quarterback Lynn Dickey a school-record seven times, and Cornhusker I-back Joe Orduna rushed for 105 yards and four touchdowns against what had been the conference's best defense.

Orduna, a senior who sat out the 1969 season as a medical redshirt, led Nebraska in rushing in 1970.

A week later, the Cornhuskers won the Big Eight championship outright by defeating Oklahoma 28-21 at Memorial Stadium. Though unranked, the young Sooners could have earned a share of the conference title with a victory. Nebraska had to come from behind twice during the game. Junior quarterback Jerry Tagge scored the winning touchdown, capping a 53-yard drive, with 7:42 remaining.

Nebraska finished 10-0-1, its first undefeated regular season since 1965, and ranked No. 3 in both wire service polls, behind two unbeaten and untied teams: No. 1 Texas and No. 2 Ohio State. The UPI didn't conduct a poll after bowl games, so Texas was its national champion for 1970.

The Cornhuskers were matched against No. 5 LSU in the Orange Bowl game on New Year's night. Texas played Notre Dame, which had been No. 1 until a late-season loss to USC, in a rematch of the previous year's Cotton Bowl. And Ohio State drew Stanford in the Rose Bowl.

Nebraska's hopes of earning the AP version of the national championship were slim. Both Texas and Ohio State would have to lose, and the Cornhuskers would have to win. But it happened.

Notre Dame upset Texas 24-11, and Stanford staged a fourth-quarter comeback to defeat Ohio State 27-17. Nebraska learned of the latter result during the Orange Bowl's pregame warmups.

The Cornhuskers appeared ready to seize their opportunity, jumping ahead of LSU 10-0 in the first 13 minutes of the Orange Bowl. But the Tigers controlled the ball during the second and third quarters, scoring on a 31-yard pass on the final play of the third quarter to take a 12-10 lead.

Nebraska responded by driving 67 yards for the winning touchdown, scored by Tagge from 1 yard away with 8:50 remaining. Junior linebacker Bob Terrio, a junior college transfer who had arrived at Nebraska as a fullback, preserved the victory by intercepting a Bert Jones pass with 45 seconds left.

Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian argued that his team should be the AP national champion because it had defeated top-ranked Texas. But Nebraska was a decisive No. 1 in the final AP poll. "I was afraid Ara's comments might influence the voters, but I guess the writers are too smart to take some coach's word," Cornhusker Coach Bob Devaney said. "The writers knew who was best."

Nebraska also received a national championship endorsement from President Richard Nixon, who proclaimed the Cornhuskers No. 1, to the delight of 8,000 at the NU Coliseum, on Jan. 14, 1971. Co-captains Murtaugh and fullback Dan Schneiss joined Devaney alongside Nixon.

It was just as Murtaugh had predicted.

RULEBOOK HEADACHES

THE CALL

The rare play, quirky bounce or bizarre situation can give college football referees instant headaches, especially since they are expected to make immediate decisions during the heat of battle. Under the gun, could you make the right call?

Touchdown Illustrated gives you the whistle. Below are rulebook headaches designed to test your knowledge of the game. You be the ref!

HEADACHE #1

BOSTON COLLEGE vs. SYRACUSE

BC tailback Cedric Washington runs to the outside, where he's hit hard at the BC 36-yard line by Orangemen defensive end Duke Pettijohn. Washington's helmet flies off, but he remains upright. Hoping to outmaneuver Pettijohn, he runs backwards, where he fumbles. The fumble is recovered by Syracuse linebacker Morlon Greenwood, who's immediately stopped at the 30.

YOU'RE THE REF:

What happens next?

ANSWER

BC keeps possession, and the ball is spotted at the 36. According to Rule 4, Section 1, Article 3g, when a runner's helmet comes completely off, the play is dead, and the ball belongs to the runner's team at that spot.

HEADACHE #2

NEBRASKA vs. TEXAS A&M

Nebraska quarterback Eric Crouch throws for split end Matt Davidson in the end zone, but Aggies safety Michael Jameson steps in and makes the interception. Jameson catches the ball on the 2-yard line, but backpedals into the end zone, where he is taken down by Davidson.

YOU'RE THE REF:

What happens next?

ANSWER

Texas A&M's ball on the 2. According to Rule 8, Section 5, Article 1, when a player intercepts a pass or fumble between the five-yard line and the goal line, and his momentum carries him into the end zone, where the ball is declared dead, his team gets the ball at the spot of the interception or fumble recovery.

HEADACHE #3

WISCONSIN vs. MICHIGAN STATE

Down 26-24, with four seconds on the clock, the Badgers have the ball on the Spartans 15-yard line. Quarterback Brian Bollinger rolls out of the pocket, but can't find an open receiver. With time expired, and Spartan linebacker Josh Thornhill bearing down on him, Bollinger drop kicks the ball towards the end zone, and through the goal post.

YOU'RE THE REF:

What happens next?

ANSWER

It's good! Rule 8, Section 4, Article 1 says that any scrimmage kick that passes through the uprights is a field goal. Wisconsin wins by a point.

HEADACHE #4

ARMY vs. NAVY

Naval academy wide receiver Brandon Rampani is lined up on the far right. After the snap, Army defensive back Derrick Goodwin pushes him at the line of scrimmage, and he steps out of bounds. He steps back in bounds, runs down the field, and catches a pass in the end zone from quarterback Brian Broadwater.

YOU'RE THE REF:

What happens next?

ANSWER

Touchdown, Navy. A receiver who steps out of bounds is normally ineligible, but if he is blocked out of bounds and immediately returns inbounds, he retains his eligibility.

1971 National Champions - 13-0

Nebraska's 1971 season came down to a single game at Owen Field in Norman, Okla., on Thanksgiving Day. At least, that's how it is most often remembered. The No. 1-ranked Cornhuskers played No. 2-ranked Oklahoma in what still is regularly regarded as college football's "Game of the Century."

The teams were undefeated and untied, and they included 17 of 22 first-team All-Big Eight players. Nebraska had the nation's top-ranked defense. Oklahoma had its most productive offense.

The cover of the issue (November 22, 1971) of Sports Illustrated published the week of the game included photographs of Nebraska line-backer Bob Terrio and Oklahoma running back Greg Pruitt, nose-to-nose, beneath the headline: "Irresistible Oklahoma Meets Immovable Nebraska."

The game was equal to its buildup. Johnny Rodgers opened the scoring less than four minutes into the first quarter with a 72-yard punt return, and Rich Sanger finished it by kicking an extra point with 1:38 remaining, following a dramatic, 74-yard drive capped by Jeff Kinney's 2-yard run.

Rodgers' punt return is among the most memorable moments of the game.

But he also made a key play to keep the winning touchdown drive alive, improvising on a pass route to get open on third-and-8, then making a diving catch of a Jerry Tagge pass for a 12-yard gain and a first down.

Cornhusker middle guard Rich Glover, who made 22 tackles that afternoon, put the finishing touches on Nebraska's 35-31 victory, deflecting a fourth-down, Jack Mildren pass with barely a minute left.

Except for the Oklahoma game, Nebraska was never seriously challenged in its quest to repeat as national champion. The Cornhuskers overwhelmed 12 other opponents, including Alabama in the Orange Bowl, to earn themselves a place among the best teams in college football history.

Coach Bear Bryant's Crimson Tide went to Miami undefeated, untied and ranked No. 2. It left a 38-6 loser, providing proper payback for Nebraska's 39-28 and 34-7 bowl losses to Alabama following the 1965 and 1966 seasons. The first of those losses, in the 1966 Orange Bowl game, cost Coach Bob Devaney's Cornhuskers a perfect season and, most likely, a national championship.

Although Nebraska averaged what was then a school-record 437.7 yards on offense, including a Big Eight-leading 179.3 yards passing, and ranked third nationally in scoring, averaging 39.1 per game, it was defense that set apart the Cornhuskers — as the Sports Illustrated headline pointed out.

Nebraska ranked second in the nation in rushing defense (85.9), third in scoring defense (8.2) and fifth in total defense (202.9). The Cornhusker Blackshirts included seven first-team All-Big Eight selections, four players who would earn consensus All-America recognition during their careers and two Outland Trophy winners: Glover and tackle Larry Jacobson. Glover would win both the Outland and Lombardi awards in 1972. They were joined in the starting lineup by junior end Willie Harper, like Glover, a two-time All-American. John Dutton, an All-American in 1973, was a sophomore backup.

Besides Glover, Jacobson and Harper, the other first-team all-conference defenders were Terrio, Jim Anderson, Bill Kosch and Joe Blahak. Anderson, Kosch and Blahak played in the secondary.

Anderson and Tagge, one of five Cornhuskers on the All-Big Eight first-team offense, were the captains. Both were from West High School in Green Bay, Wis., as was starting monster back Dave Mason, a junior who had sat out the 1970 season as a medical redshirt.

The other first-team offensive players were Rodgers, Kinney, Carl Johnson and Dick Rupert.

Wingback Johnny Rodgers was a key to the Huskers' national title run in 1971. Rodgers made a name for himself as a junior in 1971, before winning the Heisman Trophy in 1972.

The Cornhusker defense was opportunistic as well as immovable, contributing to a school-record plus-26 turnovers. Nebraska recovered 20 opponents' fumbles and intercepted 27 passes.

Nebraska was No. 2 in the Associated Press pre-season rankings but moved to No. 1 after opening with a 34-7 victory against Oregon at Memorial Stadium. Bobby Moore, now known as Ahmad Rashad, scored the Ducks' lone touchdown with just over three minutes remaining in the game.

Only three opponents scored more than one touchdown against the Cornhuskers. Oklahoma State and Kansas State each managed two touchdowns, and Oklahoma, of course, scored four. The only time all season that Nebraska even trailed during a game was against the Sooners.

The Cornhuskers opened conference play with back-to-back shutouts against Missouri (36-0) and Kansas (55-0), during a stretch in which they posted 12 consecutive scoreless quarters.

In addition to everything else, the Cornhuskers almost always had good field position because of the punt and kick-off returns of Rodgers, a key to their success, according to Tom Osborne, an assistant who designed and coordinated the offense. "As great as that team was, take Johnny Rodgers out of there on kickoff and punt returns, and it probably wouldn't have gone 13-0," Osborne said.

Nebraska extended its winning streak to 23 games and its unbeaten streak to 32 games in 1971. Repeating as national champions "wasn't automatic," Rodgers said.

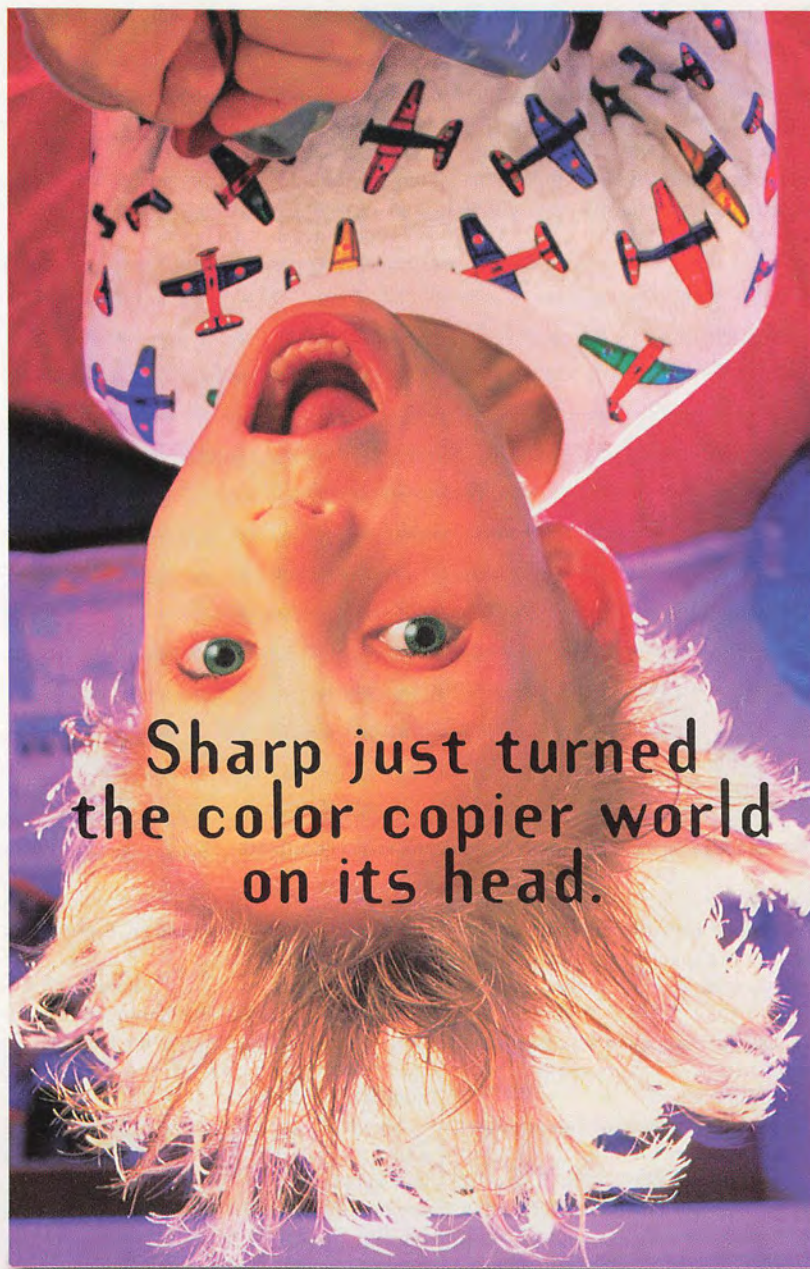

But going into the season, "we were pretty doggone confident."

1994 National Champions - 13-0

Byron Bennett's 45-yard field goal attempt sailed wide left in the final second of Nebraska's 18-16 loss to Florida State in the 1994 Orange Bowl game. With that miss, an 11-game Cornhusker winning streak ended. And the run to Coach Tom Osborne's first national championship began.

Nebraska's focus for the 1994 season was finishing the business that had been left incomplete on the night of Jan. 1, 1994, in Miami. The actual process started with a 31-0 victory against West Virginia in the Kickoff Classic in late August, and it concluded with a come-from-behind, 24-17 victory against Miami, on the Hurricanes' home field, in the 1995 Orange Bowl game. To a degree, that game characterized the season.

An important subplot to the drama of 1994 involved the Cornhusker quarterbacks. Junior Tommie Frazier, a two-year starter, opened the season as if he might run away with the Heisman Trophy before being sidelined by blood clot problems in his right knee after the fourth game.

Frazier's misfortune represented an opportunity for junior Brook Berringer, who came off the bench to lead Nebraska to the Big Eight championship and the Orange Bowl game. Berringer was 7-0 as a starter, passing for 1,295 yards (14th on Nebraska's all-time, single-season list) and 10 touchdowns, in what amounted to only eight full games. He threw just three passes in the first three games.

When Berringer was slowed by a partially collapsed lung, a problem that occurred in back-to-back games, sophomore walk-on Matt Turman stepped up and directed the Cornhuskers. Although Berringer had been cleared to play, Turman gained a 7-6 lead against Kansas State at Manhattan that ended 17-6.

Turman had come on to replace Berringer the previous week, directing Nebraska to 23 second-half points in a 32-3 victory against Oklahoma State in the Cornhuskers' Big Eight opener.

The quarterback sequence was somewhat similar in the Orange Bowl victory. Frazier, who had been included on the travel roster for the final regular-season game at Oklahoma (but did not play), started against Miami. Berringer replaced him and got Nebraska on the scoreboard in the second quarter, with a 19-yard touchdown pass to tight end Mark Gilman. Then Frazier returned to finish it and earn game MVP honors.

Nebraska trailed the Hurricanes 10-7 at halftime and fell behind 17-7 less than two minutes into the third quarter. But during the intermission, Osborne had described to the Cornhuskers the way the second half would go if they maintained their composure and continued to play smart physical Husker football. They did.

Afterward, Osborne's halftime speech was made public. It was eerily prophetic.

Even though Nebraska finished its business by going 13-0, it remained for voters in the Associated Press and USA Today/CNN polls to certify the Cornhuskers as national champions. Penn State also went through the season undefeated and untied at 12-0. The Nittany Lions argued to no avail.

Nebraska began the season ranked No. 4 by the Associated Press, moved to No. 1 after the Kickoff Classic, then inexplicably dropped to No. 2 following a 42-16 victory at Texas Tech. Sophomore safety Mike Minter suffered a season-ending knee injury during the game televised by ESPN.

In many ways, Minter was to the defense what Frazier was to the offense. His loss was significant; a fact underscored during an unexpectedly close, 42-32 victory against pass-happy Wyoming.

The Cornhuskers dropped to No. 3 in the AP poll after the Kansas State victory, before finally moving to No. 1 following the Colorado game. The Buffaloes came to Lincoln undefeated, untied and ranked No. 2 by the AP and No. 3 by USA Today/CNN. Nebraska was No. 2 according to the coaches. The Cornhuskers remained No. 2 in the USA Today/CNN rankings another week, before ascending to the top spot on the strength of a 45-17 victory over Kansas, despite a Penn State victory against Indiana.

Nebraska earned the voters' respect with an offense that featured one of the best lines in school history and a new 4-3 defense that allowed only 55 points in conference play. Led by linebacker Ed Stewart, a consensus All-American, the Cornhuskers ranked second in the nation in scoring defense, fourth in total defense and rushing defense, and 10th in pass defense.

The offensive line included Outland Trophy winner Zach Wiegert at tackle. Along with winning the Outland, Wiegert was a consensus first-team All-American. His linemate Brenden Stai earned All-America honors of his own at guard.

Rob Zatechka, the other tackle, was a four-time academic All-Big Eight who graduated with a perfect 4.0 grade-point average in biological sciences. Along with Joel Wilks, the other guard, and center Aaron Graham, the only non-senior among the starters, the group was nicknamed the "Pipeline."

Nebraska led the nation in rushing, with sophomore Lawrence Phillips gaining 1,722 yards, the second-highest single-season total in Cornhusker history. He finished eighth in the Heisman Trophy voting.

Phillips, Graham, Wiegert and Stai all earned first-team all-conference honors on offense.

Stewart, Troy Dumas, Donta Jones, Barron Miles and Tyrone Williams represented the defense on the All-Big Eight first team. Stewart, Wiegert, Zatechka and Terry Connealy were the Husker captains.

A crowd estimated at 14,000 to 15,000 stood in line and braved frigid temperatures for an opportunity to cheer the Cornhuskers at the Bob Devaney Sports Center on their return from Miami.

"We didn't just win this for ourselves, we won this for the whole state of Nebraska," Connealy said.

1995 National Champions - 12-0

Tom Osborne's 23rd Nebraska team was arguably his best. The 1995 Cornhuskers were among the best in college football history.

Though such a sweeping assertion cannot be proven, it can be supported. Nebraska's 1995 national championship team was No. 1 on a list of the top major college teams since 1956. The list was compiled by computer analyst Jeff Sagarin, whose rankings are regularly published in USA Today.

The 1971 Cornhuskers were No. 2 according to Sagarin's power ratings. Both were well ahead of the remaining 23 teams on the list, which also included the 1972 and 1970 Cornhuskers.

Nebraska was never seriously challenged in 1995, as it extended a school-record winning streak to 25 games and repeated as national champion — something that has been accomplished only eight other times since the Associated Press initiated its national college football rankings in 1936.

The closest any opponent could come to the Cornhuskers was 14 points. But even that was deceptive. Washington State trailed Nebraska 28-7 after three quarters, in the fifth game of the season. The Cornhuskers scored 20 points in the second quarter to overcome a 7-0 first quarter deficit.

After that, the outcome was never in serious doubt. The final score was 35-21.

Nebraska, which began the season ranked No. 2 by the Associated Press, didn't move to No. 1 until back-to-back victories against No. 8 Kansas State (49-25) and No. 7 Colorado (44-21). After completing a third consecutive undefeated and untied regular season and winning a fifth consecutive Big Eight championship, including four in a row outright, the Cornhuskers eliminated any doubt about their claim to a second consecutive national title by overwhelming No. 2 Florida, 62-24, in the Fiesta Bowl.

Despite the Cornhuskers' success, the 1995 season was one of mixed emotions, resulting from much-publicized off-the-field problems. "It was a terrible year, and it was a great year," Osborne said after the Fiesta Bowl. "It was taxing. On the other hand, it was very gratifying to work with a group of players who had the kind of focus and drive to carry them through. That was the redeeming factor."

"There were times I was running on empty. I take my spiritual life very seriously. I relied on my faith more than I ever have. I was grateful for the sustaining strength that was there."

The star-crossed nature of the 1995 team was further underscored in the spring, when Brook Berringer, a quarterback who had just completed his eligibility, died in the crash of a light plane.

Osborne again had to turn to his faith to handle the tragedy.

"The Brook I knew, there was nothing he could have done better," Osborne said. "The length (of his life) was not what you would have liked. But the quality couldn't have been better."

Berringer, who had stepped in for an injured Tommie Frazier during the 1994 national championship season, accepted his role without complaint and contributed as a proven backup in 1995.

Frazier, fully recovered from the blood clot problems that sidelined him much of his junior season, broke the Cornhusker career record for total offense (5,476) and touchdowns produced (79). He earned All-America recognition, finished second to Ohio State's Eddie George in balloting for the Heisman Trophy and received the most valuable player award in the Fiesta Bowl game.

Frazier, whose record in four years as a starter was 33-3, established himself among the best quarterbacks in Cornhusker history.

"I would say if I were to choose one player who has had the most impact on the outcome of the greatest number of games over the longest period of time since I've been at Nebraska, it would be Tommie Frazier," said Osborne, who began as a graduate assistant in 1962.

Under Frazier's direction, Nebraska's offense was even more productive than that of the "Scoring Explosion" team in 1983. The Cornhuskers ranked No. 1 in the nation in both rushing (399.8) and scoring (52.4) and No. 2 in total offense (556.3). The 1983 team was slightly better rushing the ball, averaging a school-record 401.7 yards, but it averaged slightly fewer points (52.0) and total yards (546.7).

Ahman Green, who began fall camp down the list on the depth chart, became the starting I-back and broke the school rushing record for a freshman. He gained 1,086 yards and scored 12 touchdowns.

Green would have broken the school scoring record for a freshman were it not for Kris Brown, the place-kicker. Brown, like Green a true freshman, scored 97 points — a school record for kicking.

In addition to Frazier, center Aaron Graham and outside linebacker Jared Tomich earned first-team All-America honors. Graham also was a Cornhusker co-captain, along with tight end Mark Gilman, defensive tackle Christian Peter, safety Tony Veland and linebacker Phil Ellis.

Tomich, a junior who originally walked on, was among five Blackshirts who received first-team All-conference recognition. The other defensive players were Peter, linebacker Terrell Farley, rush end Grant Wistrom and cornerback Tyrone Williams. Frazier and Graham were joined on All-Big Eight first-team offenses by Green, tackle Eric Anderson and guards Chris Dishman and Aaron Taylor.

Rarely has college football seen such a team. Maybe never.

Quarterback Tommie Frazier directed Nebraska to a second straight national title, capped by a spectacular Fiesta Bowl performance.

1997 National Champions - 13-0

A pajama-clad Tom Osborne was packing for home in the early-morning hours of Jan. 3, 1998, when he heard the news. "By that time, I was wrung out enough that there wasn't much emotion left," he would say later that morning during a post-Orange Bowl game news conference.

His response to the news was typically low-key.

"Naturally, I was very pleased, very gratified," he said.

The source of his pleasure had been the announcement on ESPN — the television set in his room at the Sheraton Bal Harbour on Miami Beach had been tuned to the network "by chance," he said — that his 25th and final team had been voted the USA Today/ESPN coaches' national champion.

The Cornhuskers, No. 2 going into the Orange Bowl game, had squeezed ahead of Michigan in the coaches' poll on the strength of their 42-17 victory against No. 3-ranked Tennessee.

The Wolverines retained the top spot in the Associated Press media poll.

"Being a coach, I know a little bit how they think," said Osborne, who was among those with a vote in the USA Today/ESPN poll. "They probably looked at the fact we were 13-0, and to be unrewarded in some way would be . . . I don't mean to say an injustice. But it wouldn't be a good thing."

No major college football team has gone 13-0 and been deprived of a national title. On the other hand, Michigan argued, no No. 1 team had ever won its bowl game and been dropped from the top.

The split title seemed a reasonable solution.

That was Cornhusker quarterback Scott Frost's point immediately after the decisive victory against Tennessee. "I can't see how any coach outside of the Big Ten or Pac-10 would vote for Michigan because if somebody from North Carolina, Florida State, wherever it might be, Notre Dame, coaches from there, if they were undefeated and won the Alliance bowl game, they would expect to share the national title," the senior from Wood River, Neb., said on the field, in front of CBS television cameras.

"It's been split before. It's OK to split it. It should be split."

Frost was well-versed on national championship history. The title had been split nine times previously since the coaches' poll was established in 1950, most recently in 1990 and 1991.

Nebraska's first national championship in 1970 was split with Texas.

Cornhusker defensive tackle Jason Peter was less sharing than Frost. "If you ask me, I don't think it should be a split title," he said after the Orange Bowl game. "I mean, we proved today that we're the best team in the country, without a doubt."

There probably wouldn't have been much doubt in anyone's mind had it not been for Nebraska's dramatic 45-38 overtime victory at Missouri in November. The Cornhuskers traveled to Columbia with the No. 1 ranking in both polls but returned to Lincoln ranked No. 4.

That same weekend, Michigan went from No. 4 to No. 1 on the strength of a 34-8 victory against No. 2 Penn State, and Florida State, which subsequently lost to Florida, went from No. 3 to No. 2.

Michigan might have slammed the door on Nebraska's national championship aspirations with a more decisive victory against Washington State in the Rose Bowl game, but the door was open "at least a crack," Osborne told his team after it watched the Wolverines win 21-16 on New Year's Day.

Coaching the Cornhuskers to a third national championship in four seasons was a fitting conclusion to Osborne's Hall of Fame career. The National Football Foundation waived its three-year waiting period for induction, allowing Osborne to be enshrined alongside the game's greatest coaches without delay.

Nebraska became only the second major college football program since the Associated Press began ranking teams in 1936 to earn three national titles in four seasons. Notre Dame won national titles in 1946, 1947 and 1949.

Peter and rush end Grant Wistrom, the Lombardi Award winner and two-time Big 12 Defensive Player of the Year, were the heart and soul of Nebraska's 1997 national champions.

"Those two guys, among some others, ramrodded that football team," Osborne said. "They decided a year ago they were going to come back and get the thing done. Their leadership was invaluable."

Peter and Wistrom earned All-America honors, as did offensive guard Aaron Taylor, the first Cornhusker to be named an All-American at two positions. He played center in 1996. Taylor was voted the Outland Trophy winner, with Peter being one of two runners-up.

Frost and I-back Ahman Green were among other key players on offense. Frost became only the 10th player in major college history to rush for 1,000 yards and pass for 1,000 yards in the same season, finishing with 1,095 and 1,237, respectively. His 2,332 yards of total offense were one short of the Nebraska single-season record, set by Jerry Tagge in 1971.

Green rushed for 1,877 yards, which were second in the nation. His yards also ranked second on the Cornhuskers' all-time single-season list, behind 1983 Heisman Trophy winner Mike Rozier's 2,148 yards.

Every Cornhusker, from freshman Matt Davison, whose touchdown catch of a deflected Frost pass on the final play of regulation against Missouri kept the title hopes alive, to scout team players such as senior Doug Seaman, contributed in varying degrees to Nebraska's fifth national title.

The 1997 national championship team was "somewhere in between" the 1994 and 1995 national championship teams, according to Osborne. It was "probably a little more talented than '94, certainly not near as controversial as '95. That was nice," he said. "So it was just kind of a nice way to go."

"Great leadership on the part of the players, and I didn't have to do much."

He was being overly modest, of course. The record will attest to that.

I-back Ahman Green rushed for an Orange Bowl record 206 yards, as Nebraska defeated Tennessee, 42-17, in the 1998 Orange Bowl. The victory gave Nebraska its third national title in the 1990s.

The University of Nebraska

The Esther L. Kauffman Academic Residential Center, under construction north of the Nebraska Union, will provide a high-tech living and learning environment as home to the J.D. Edwards Honors Program in Computer Science and Management. The program prepares graduates to use computing foundations, information technology, and business principles to meet the challenges of industry in the 21st century.

For 131 years, the University of Nebraska-Lincoln has been the leading institution of higher education in the state. With more than 22,000 current students and about 190,000 graduates, the University of Nebraska-Lincoln is the largest campus in the university system and its principal doctoral degree-granting institution. While dedicated to providing the best educational experience for its students, the University also is committed to serving the citizens of the state with a variety of outreach and extended education programs.

The University of Nebraska was chartered by the Legislature in 1869 as the state's public university and land-grant institution. It was the first college west of the Mississippi River to confer graduate degrees. As the University system's most comprehensive entity, the Lincoln campus includes the agricultural components organized within the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

The University is a Carnegie Foundation Research Institution I, a member of the Association of American Universities and has been accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools since 1913.

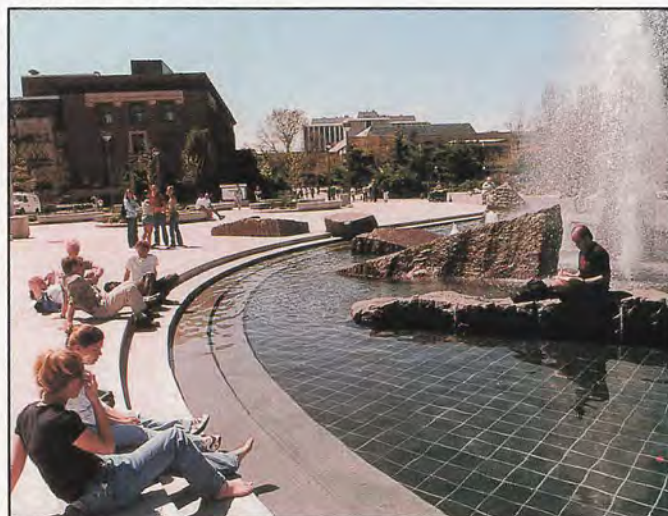

The university offers 36 doctoral programs, 63 master's degree programs and five six-year specialist degree programs. The College of Law has a professional degree program and jointly administers with the Graduate College eight programs that combine a master's or doctoral degree with a law degree. Nine undergraduate colleges (Agriculture and Natural Resources, Architecture, Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Engineering and Technology, Fine and Performing Arts, Human Resources and Family Sciences, Journalism and Mass Communications, and Teachers) offer more than 120 baccalaureate degree programs in the arts, sciences, humanities and professions.

A Comprehensive Education Program embodies the ideals of a liberal arts education. The program acquaints all undergraduates with the basic research tools and the global human context and introduces them to a wide variety of academic subject areas. It emphasizes strong written and oral communication skills and critical thinking. A co-curricular component encourages student leadership and involvement in campus activities and in the wider community.

The George W. Beadle Center for Genetics and Biomaterials Research was dedicated in 1995 and is one of the University's major facilities for science and technology. The center contains state-of-the-art laboratories devoted to research and development in biotechnology, biochemistry, biological materials and related fields. The center is named in honor of a Nobel Prize-winning geneticist and University alumnus.

The University reaches thousands of citizens across the state each year through outreach activities. The Cooperative Extension Service provides all Nebraskans with information and assistance in agriculture and natural resources, home economics, family living, 4-H and community resource development. Continuing Studies offers alternatives to formal on-campus education with programs, including Internet courses, summer reading courses, evening classes, independent study by correspondence, telecourses and study tours.

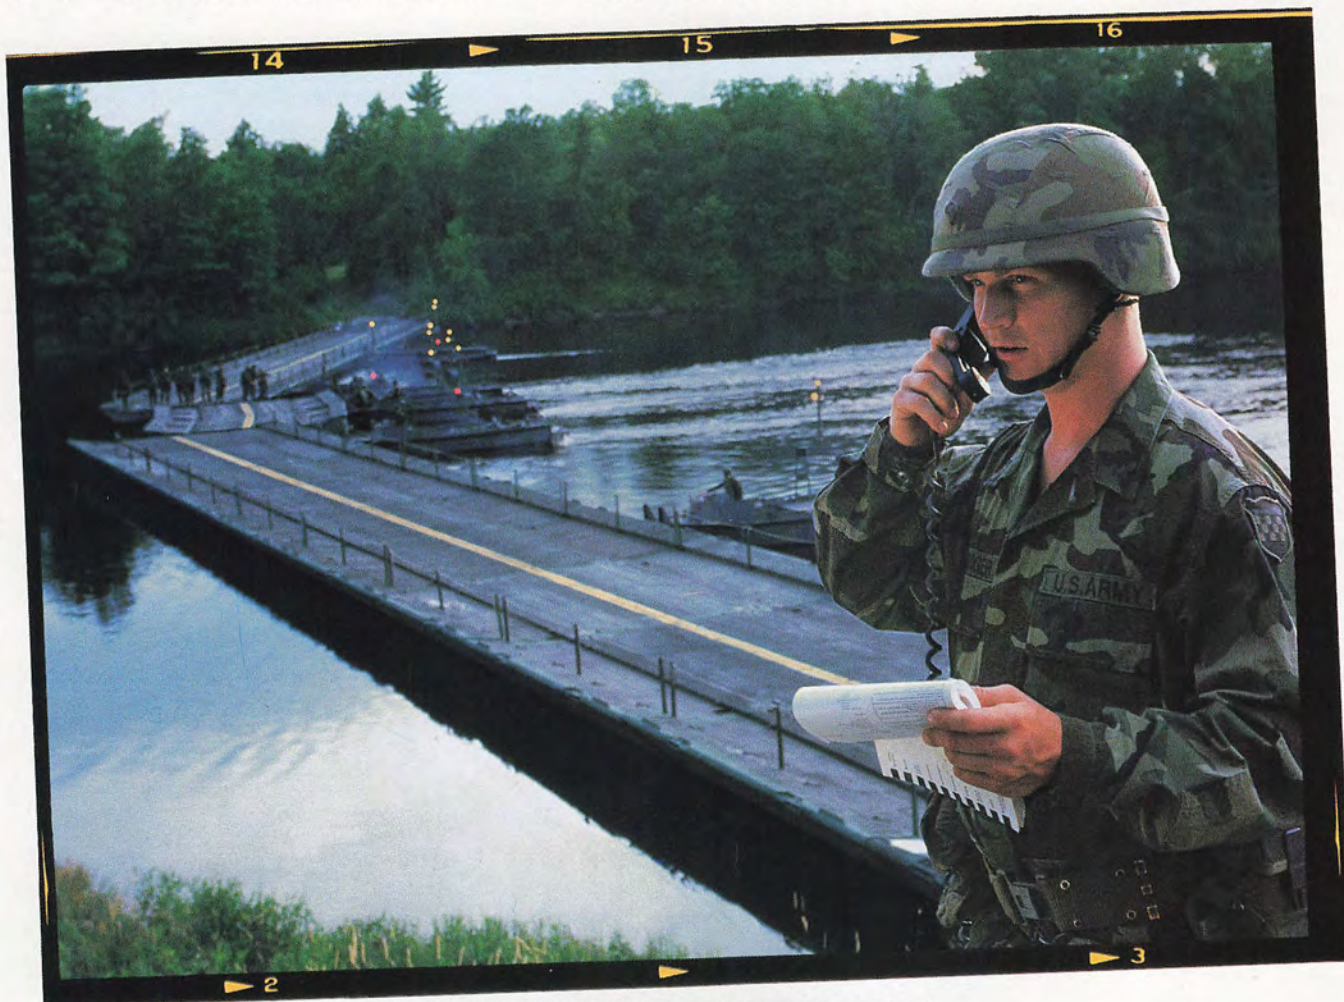

A number of specialized centers offer assistance to the state's citizens. For example, the Bureau of Business Research is a valuable resource for individuals and local governments. The Food Processing Center has helped hundreds of businesses with everything from product development to marketing, and the Technology Transfer Office expedites the movement of university-developed knowledge into real-world products and processes. The campus is home to the nationally renowned Sheldon Memorial Art Gallery and Sculpture Garden, the Christlieb Collection of Western Art and several other galleries. The Lied Center for Performing Arts draws big-name acts in contemporary entertainment, and the University of Nebraska State Museum boasts a world-class fossil collection.

11 Inducted into Nebraska Football Hall of Fame

By Tanya Wright

The Nebraska Football Hall of Fame will induct seven former Cornhusker standouts, three state college stars and former University of Nebraska at Kearney Head Coach Claire Boroff in ceremonies this weekend. The honorees were inducted during ceremonies last night at Memorial Stadium's Sky Box Club Level and will be honored on the field prior to kickoff this afternoon.

The Nebraska Football Hall of Fame is sponsored by the Nebraska Chapter of the National Football Foundation and the College Football Hall of Fame.

Among this year's honorees is Guy Chamberlin Award winner Gerry Gdowski (1987-89) and two-time All-American Jake Young (1986-89).

Gdowski spent 1987 and 1988 as the backup to two-time All Big Eight quarterback Steve Taylor, and in those two seasons combined, Gdowski attempted only 10 passes, completing six for 72 yards. However during his senior year in 1989, his only season at the helm of the Husker offense, Gdowski made his name known. He averaged 7.9 yards per carry, rushing for 925 yards and 13 touchdowns, while completing 71-of-136 passes for 1,326 yards and 19 touchdowns. Those numbers earned him the Big Eight coaches' award as the conference offensive player of the year.

One of the few three-year starters in Nebraska offensive line history, Young joined Rik Bonness and Dave Rimington as the only centers to earn two All-America awards under Coach Tom Osborne. Young guided the Huskers' to the Big Eight title in 1988, as NU compiled a 41-8 record during Young's career.

Leading the list of state college inductees is Chadron State standout LaVerne "Mac" McKelvey (1921-25). A dominant and versatile player, McKelvey started his Eagle career as a halfback, before switching to quarterback his senior year. Also adept at kicking, McKelvey scored all 13 of the Eagles' points in his final game, a 13-3 win over Peru. He scored on a 55-yard punt return, kicked the extra point, and added field goals of 24 and 30 yards, as well as unleashing an 80-yard punt.

Others named to the Hall this fall include former Huskers Don Olson, guard, 1957-59; Jon McWilliams, receiver, 1953-55; Kaye Carstens, cornerback, 1964-66; and Ted Vactor, defensive back, 1963-65. Former Concordia College tackle Eugene Oetting (1950-53) and former Chadron State all-conference linebacker Lonnie Wickard (1957-58) are this year's other state college inductees.

In addition to honoring former players and coaches, the Nebraska Chapter will present the Clarence E. Swanson Memorial Award to Howard L. Hawks of Omaha and the Lyell Bremser Special Merit Award to John Hay of Sacramento, Calif.

Hawks is the founder, chairman and CEO of Tenaska, Inc., an International energy company with its headquarters in Omaha. Hawks and his wife, Mryna, have been longtime supporters of the university and the athletic department. Their Hawks Foundation has provided support to many local and national organizations and institutions, including numerous scholarships for undergraduate and post-graduate students.

Hay is being recognized for 20 years of work with the Northern Californians for Nebraska. Hay, along with Dr. Walter Reiss, organized the NCFN in 1979-80 and has seen it grow from a small band of NU enthusiasts to an organization with more than 600 members.

2000 Nebraska Hall of Fame Inductees

► Robert Russell—A quarterback for the Huskers, Russell was a member of the 1922 team that defeated Notre Dame, 14-6. It was one of only two games Knute Rockne and the Irish lost during the three-year career of the famed backfield tabbed as the "Four Horsemen." Following his playing career, Russell became a sportscaster and called NU football games.

► Don Olson—An All-Big Eight selection as a senior in 1959, Olson was a starting guard on the Husker team that ended Oklahoma's 74-game winning streak that season, marking NU's first over a Sooner squad in 17 years.

► Jon McWilliams—Under coach Bill Glassford, McWilliams helped the Huskers win five of six games in the Big Seven Conference in 1955. A three-year letterwinner (1953-55), McWilliams earned all-conference honors his senior year, as he led Husker receivers with 14 catches for 239 yards and two touchdowns.

► Kaye Carstens—A three-time letterwinner for Nebraska as a defensive back, Carstens helped the Huskers post a 28-5 record from 1964 to 1966, including three Big Eight titles. Carstens started his Husker career on offense but switched to defense and was a two-year starter at cornerback. His senior season, the Huskers gave up only 74 points, the lowest allowed by any Bob Devaney-coached team, earning Carstens All-Big Eight honors.

► Ted Vactor—Vactor was an All-Big Eight selection in 1964 as the Huskers claimed the conference title for the second consecutive season. As a defensive back, Vactor totaled 37 solo tackles and 52 assists during his last two years. In each of the three seasons that Vactor lettered (1963-65), Nebraska won conference titles, finishing no lower than sixth in the final AP poll. Vactor went on to play six years in the NFL with the Washington Redskins and the Chicago Bears.

► Gerry Gdowski—As a co-captain in 1989, Gdowski led the Big Eight Conference with a pass-efficiency rating of 177.3—the best rating ever recorded by a Husker quarterback. He earned all-conference honors that season as the Huskers finished 10-2. He also led Nebraska in total offense with 204.6 yards per game on 2,251 yards with 32 touchdowns. Currently, he is the quarterbacks coach and recruiting coordinator for Coach Tony Samuel at New Mexico State University.

► Jake Young—A three-year starter, Young was a two-time All-Big Eight performer, earning All-America honors in 1988 and 1989. He helped pave the way as the Huskers averaged a nation-leading 382.3 yards rushing per game in 1988 and followed with a nation-leading 375.3 yards rushing per game in 1989, giving the Huskers their sixth NCAA rushing title in the 1980s.

► LaVerne McKelvey, Chadron State—Hailed by many as the greatest player to ever wear an Eagle uniform, McKelvey earned all-conference honors for Chadron every year through his five-year career (1921-1925). As an all-purpose back, McKelvey helped outscore Chadron State opponents 738 to 81 his final four years. In 1925, he moved from halfback to quarterback, guiding the Eagles to an unbeaten season.

► Eugene Oetting, Concordia College—A multi-sport athlete at Concordia from 1950 through 1954, Oetting (pronounced ET-ting) helped power the football team to conference championships in three of his four seasons. Named co-captain his senior year, he was also a three-time all-conference selection. Following his collegiate career, Oetting joined the Concordia College faculty in 1967 and retired in 1997 as a professor in Education, having served as Dean of Education and Graduate Studies.

► Lonnie Wickard, Chadron State—An all-conference linebacker and quarterback, Wickard helped Chadron to an 8-0 season in 1957. The success came following a two-win season in 1956, his first year at Chadron. Also adept at punting, Wickard holds the CSC record with an 80-yard punt and best punting average for a season at 42.8 yards.

► Claire Boroff, Nebraska-Kearney—Boroff concluded his 28th season as the head coach at the University of Nebraska at Kearney in 1999, retiring as the winningest coach in Antelope history. Boroff's teams went 169-108-5. Boroff opened his career with 14 straight wins at home and guided the Lopers to 19 winning seasons including seven years with eight or more victories. He coached 45 players to All-America honors, including 12 first-team selections.

Gerry Gdowski earned Big Eight Offensive Player-of-the-Year honors in 1989, accounting for 2,251 total yards and 32 touchdowns.

Some Hangovers Last Forever.

If you think drinking can only mess you up for a night, think again. Drinking can open the door to all kinds of violence. And if you drink and drive, you can hurt or kill someone—even yourself. Of course, you know all that. What may be news to you is that a conviction for drinking and driving or alcohol-related violence can ruin your chances of getting a job—now and long after you graduate. Isn't that a heavy price to pay for a night on the town?

You're not as cool as you think when you drink.

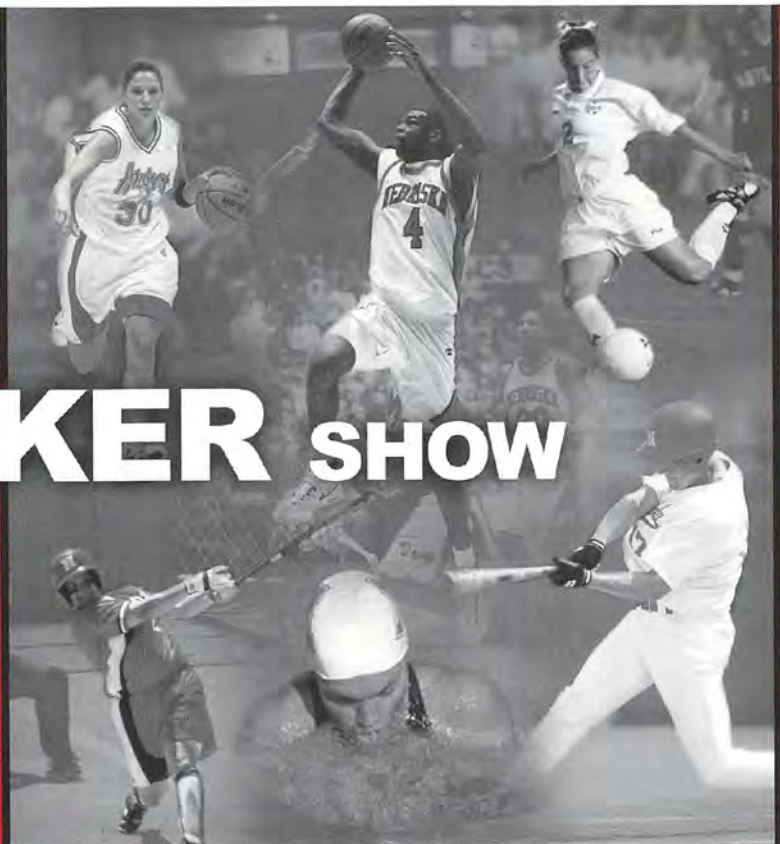

After the football season is over, stay tuned for an inside look at the Husker Olympic sports.

Husker Greats Return for All-Century Weekend

By Jerod Dahlgren

Husker greats from Tommie Frazier to Johnny Rodgers turned out in force to be honored at the fourth annual Husker Legends Dinner and Auction on June 25, at the Bob Devaney Sports Center.

The night was highlighted by the presentation of the Nebraska Football All-Century Team. The legends were selected through an on-line poll at huskers.com during the 1999 football season and through the spring game in April. Close to 10,000 Husker fans took part in selecting the team dominated by players on the five Husker national championship teams.

The weekend of festivities, which also included a silent auction and a golf outing featuring former Husker greats, is geared to endow an athletic scholarship in the amount of $175,000.

Rodgers, NU's first Heisman Trophy winner as an All-America wingback in 1972, will be inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame this December in New York City. The top overall Husker all-century vote getter, Rodgers was humble when asked if he felt like a legend.

"I don't feel any different than I did walking in the rain a minute ago," Rodgers said. "But I am looking forward to seeing some of the guys that I haven't seen in years. I am looking for guys like Tony Davis and just looking around to see guys that I still recognize."

The chance to see some old friends was also something that all-century tight end Junior Miller was excited about.

"It is always good to see all of the guys when it's been such a long time," the former Atlanta Falcon said. "Like Kelly Saalfeld, when I saw him I said, 'God, Kelly you lost your hair.' He looked at me and said, 'So did you.'"

Tommie Frazier, who led the Huskers to back-to-back national championships in 1994 and 1995, enjoys helping out Nebraska in any way he can. The winner of the Johnny Unitas Award as the nation's top quarterback as a senior, Frazier is the school record holder for total offense.

"The university has done a lot for me, and I like to come back and give my time, or raise money, whatever it takes," Frazier said. "Plus, I get to see a lot of old friends and people I met here."

Although he was willing to help the NU cause, Frazier has a slight problem with being labeled a legend.

"They should name it the Husker All-Stars, or something like that," Frazier said. "The guys who are up there in age, you could call them legends. But the young guys, you could call them All-Stars."

Neil Smith, a standout defensive tackle from the late 1980s, appreciates the honor of being tabbed a Husker Legend, but just don't ask him his age. When the two-time Super Bowl champion was asked his age, he replied, "29".

"Once you bleed Husker red, and red runs through your veins, you can't live without it," Smith said. "It's good to see the program is still where it is at when I left, and it's probably better winning a couple championships. I kind of like to feel that I played a part in laying the foundation. I am always going to be a Husker."

While members of the Blackshirts and past offensive greats were the most recognizable at the banquet, members of the special teams were not overlooked.

Although punter Jesse Kosch, a member of three national championship teams (1994, 1995, 1997), owns the highest career punting average in Husker history with a 41.92 yards-per-punt average, the thought of being named a Husker legend and being honored alongside other Husker greats still baffles him.

"It's kind of intimidating," Kosch said. "Standing in line, I had Tommie Frazier standing in front of me and (Grant) Wistrom and Johnny Rodgers right there. I was like geez, I didn't do much compared to everyone else."

"But I guess you have to have two special teams guys," Kosch said jokingly. "I wasn't in the spotlight much when I was here. I just showed up a couple times during the game and did my job. I am kind of surprised that as many people remembered me as they did."

In addition to the all-century football team members, other Husker greats like Eric Piatkowski (Men's Basketball), Adrian Fiala (Baseball) and Ann Swanson-Bartek (Women's Tennis) were also honored.

The banquet, which nearly 800 people attended, featured over 400 auction items, including the highlighted item of the night, a Husker golf cart.

According to NU development officer Bud Synhorst, it was a special night for all involved.

"Everyone had an opportunity to participate and to take home something with over 400 items to bid on," Synhorst said. "Every sport helped out by donating something. If you wanted something from a certain sport, there was a good chance you would be able to get it."

In addition to the banquet and auction, a golf scramble gave Husker fans a chance to get to know the legends. Each four-person team featured at least one Husker Legend. Over the last four years, the event has grown so much that it has been expanded to two golf courses. This year, the legends took the links at Firethorn and Yankee Hill Country Clubs.

With so many events going on in such a short period of time, it took a team effort, according to Synhorst.

"The event was an entire athletic department effort," Synhorst said. "Our office (development), marketing, the business office and sports information, everyone made the event a success."

Hire a Husker Program

The student-athletes at the University of Nebraska know what being part of success is all about. They understand the commitment that they make each year to their coaches and teammates will serve them well in their "quest to be the best" on the field of competition. During the summer, players make tremendous gains physically and the "team chemistry" starts to come together. In order to work out in Lincoln each summer, most players need some help financially. Huskers also realize that everything they do as student-athletes in preparation of winning championships will transfer with them throughout life into a successful employment opportunity and professional career.

When you hire a Husker, you are employing young adults who have qualities and strengths that will complement your business and associate needs. Husker student-athletes are self-motivated, disciplined and responsible. As they work to master their sport skills for competition, they too are gaining valuable experience in time management and organizational skills. A student-athlete from the University of Nebraska understands the demands of a full day, which typically includes attending classes, practice, strength and conditioning workouts, team meetings and studying. Huskers are prepared to accept the challenges of your employment opportunity. They are willing to learn and capable of doing the job you request.

Why is the Program Important?

Because of NCAA limitations on the number of athletic scholarships that are allowed to award each year, not every student-athlete who is a member of the football team is receiving a scholarship. Many of our athletes are walk-on team members who must endure the expenses of attending the university on their own. These athletes must work during the summer vacation period as well as during the academic year to offset registration fees and cost of living expenses. These non-scholarship athletes play an integral part in the success of our football program and without employment, would not be able to attend the university or participate on the football team. An employment opportunity for these young men simply make their dreams of becoming a Husker come true.

A football student-athlete who is receiving an athletic scholarship has all of his academic related expenses provided. These expenses include tuition, room and board and books and fees. However, all other personal expenses, such as return home travel, clothing needs, medical or dental services, telephone access, etc., are the responsibility of the student-athlete. The student-athletes who receive athletic scholarships also benefit greatly from summer and academic year employment. Employers who provide job opportunities for any of our football athletes play a very important role in the support system for our student-athletes.

Who to Contact About the Student-Athlete Employment Program

If you are interested in employing a Husker football player during the summer vacation period, you should contact the Nebraska Football Office at (402) 472-3116. Coaches Turner Gill and Dan Young along with football secretary Joni Duff will coordinate the placement of football athletes for your employment needs.

During the academic year, contact should be made with Theresa Becker, Assistant Compliance Director for the Athletic Department, located at 300 West Stadium. Proper forms and documentation regarding the employment of a student-athlete must be completed before beginning of employment as well as at the conclusion of the employment appointment. Feel free to call (402) 472-7009 with questions or concerns.

For more information regarding NCAA rules on student-athlete employment, please contact the University of Nebraska Compliance Office at (402) 472-2042.

Russ Hochstein was one of the Nebraska football players who participated in the "Hire a Husker" program last summer.

Student Team's Device Aids in Surgical Procedure

By Mary Jane Bruce, Public Relations

A class project took three University of Nebraska-Lincoln students into the operating room for real-life experience in the application of biological systems engineering.

The result is an improved medical device used during surgery to correct cleft palates.

Kristen Morrow, Brigit Jepsen and Mike Moore logged hundreds of hours redesigning the Dingman Mouth Gag, a device that holds a patient's mouth open during surgery to repair cleft palate. The project filled a requirement in a design class taught by Glenn Hoffman, UNL professor and head of the biological systems engineering department. The students completed the project during the 2000 spring semester.

"As graduating seniors, students are sometimes apprehensive about their ability to succeed in their first job," Hoffman said. "For students like Kristen, to see their engineering design put into medical practice is a tremendous confidence builder."

Morrow and her team not only examined design alternatives for the Dingman Mouth Gag, but also observed an operation so that they could get a better understanding of the birth defect and the surgical techniques used to correct it.

A cleft palate is a birth defect, caused when the muscle and bone masses that normally separate the oral and nasal cavities do not fuse properly. Left untreated, cleft palate affects a child's ability to talk and eat. The Dingman

The prototype device used during a surgical procedure.

Mouth Gag makes it easier for surgeons to perform corrective procedures, especially in the small mouth of a child.

Morrow, who is interested in a career in biomedical engineering, started looking for project ideas in the yellow pages of the phone book, calling doctor's offices at random. Her efforts paid off when she reached Philip Metz, a Lincoln plastic surgeon.

Metz had quit using the Dingman Mouth Gag because it was wobbly and difficult to adjust. He didn't expect the students to come up with a successful redesign of the device, but Metz was willing to let them try.

"All educational efforts are important and part of what we have to do is help the next generation," Metz said. "It was a frustrating problem. I didn't have the time to deal with it and I didn't have the expertise to deal with it and if they could come up with an answer, great. In fact they did, and I'm impressed."

Morrow, Jepsen and Moore spent hours brainstorming ideas and working on design alternatives. In addition to the engineering analysis, the students learned about cleft palate, surgical procedures and setup and the biomechanics of the jaw. They conducted an economic analysis, studied FDA regulations for medical devices and delved into patent law.

They learned how to work as a team and how to deal with delays.

A prototype of the device was built by Scott Minchow, research and development lab manager in the biological systems engineering department. The device was used in surgery, modified and used again. Metz is pleased with the changes that make it more stable and easier to adjust. He said the improvements allow him to work efficiently during surgery.

"Your concentration isn't taken away. If your frustration is low, your success rate is high," Metz said.

Morrow said the hard work was worth it.

"It was very satisfying to see the device work for the doctor and work efficiently and help in the treatment of patients."

Kristen Morrow was one member of a team of students who improved a medical device used during surgery to repair cleft palates.

Drums, Dance Connect African American Psyche

By Kelly Bartling, Public Relations

The driving beat of the djun-djun sets feet afire in the Campus Rec gym; dozens of bodies - blonde, silver-haired or afroed; short, svelte or muscled - begin their movement.

The rhythm of the African drum speaks to their hearts and their feet, says Leon Caldwell, assistant professor of education psychology, as he thumps his djembe drum with alternating fingers and palms.

The connection between African music and dance and African American body and spirit is as palpable as the sound of the rhythms. Caldwell is using the drums and dance to help teach about African American psychology, a course offered for the first time at UNL this past spring.

"In the African sense, this is holistic," Caldwell said, "...in the way we drum and the way we teach it, it's understanding the connection between mind, body and soul. The spirit connects to the drum."

The African embodiment of mind, body and soul - the spirituality of psyche - clashes with the European concept of psychology, Caldwell said, so European and African Americans have a lot they could learn. Studying African history, knowledge and traditions, and interpreting their rituals, such as music and dance, helps Americans understand ethnic and cultural differences.

Students this semester in Caldwell's African and African American psychology class (498/898) learned of these ancient African traditions, read from numerous African scholars, studied history and discussed how African tribal customs evolved and how they have relevance today.

And they danced.

"The class is an attempt to do a paradigm shift," Caldwell said. "Here we are in the context of western dogma, and so we have to confront that dogma and understand why in this context people of African descent, or non-western people, are misinterpreted, because those norms and standards for behavior are based on a European cosmology or world view. But if we look at the history of psychology, it has not been used to benefit or appropriately explain the behaviors of people of African descent, or non-Europeans."

Critical to understanding African psychology is experiencing the connection of body, mind and soul. In the African world-view, psychology is the process of spiritual illumination.

"If you study the soul, you study the mind and you study the body. That's where the African drum and dance comes in," Caldwell said. "You have to understand the drum from a metaphysical perspective: What the vibrations do to cells. When African people hear music or any rhythm, they move to it. They are very in tune to rhythm, as they are in tune to nature."

Caldwell said that if non-Africans understood this psychology and history, they could learn how to work with the culture to build on these positives: Of community, sociology and economics.

"My biggest lesson is to understand that I am connected to something greater than me... to know that what I'm doing here, the many things I've been afforded, are built upon the backs of my ancestors and the people who came before me, I realize my power and my limitations, and I see the potential in anybody," he said.

Caldwell said many people see race or background as defining "what they are not," but Africans would see people as all connected to the same life, form - as a community.

Drawn together by the drum.

Caldwell's study of African drum music, dancing, and his connections to African scholars opened opportunity for his African American psychology class to experience true African dance. Beginning in April, master drummer/dancer, author and artist Dadisi Sanyika of Los Angeles, taught African dance to Caldwell's students and other participants at Campus Rec. Sanyika, during his visit, also led cultural arts classes through dance and song, and visited local schools through the Artist Diversity Residency Program of the Hixson-Lied College of Fine and Performing Arts. He shares messages of cultural diversity, African pride, and music and art.

"It's a dance. It's exercise and it's aerobics," Caldwell said. "And in the African sense it's holistic." Through one dance, the jelidon (history dance), the dancers, giraffe-like, moved their legs, arms and heads in a celebration of spirit and history.

"A dance is about pulling you in... about community," said Sanyika, Caldwell's mentor. "It's telling a story, a re-enactment of a life experience. It's a lesson about wisdom, science, math, history, culture, spirituality embodied in rhythm and song."

Some dancers, appearing stiff or awkward at first, became moved by the drum beats. Feet tapping to the djun-djun, they lost their inhibition. Forming a circle, they moved as one.

Caldwell said he hopes to offer the class again; next summer during pre-session he is taking students to Ghana, where they will study West African culture, education and other topics.

"This class is important in helping stop some mislabeling of differences of African Americans," said Dolores Tarver, a grad assistant. "If we all understand those differences, we can appreciate them more. This helps us challenge things that are taught (in psychology) or stereotypes we have. Dr. Caldwell's class helped me understand our history and where African Americans are coming from... it bridges the gaps."

As a non-African American, graduate student and substitute teacher Matt McCrudden said the class gives him insight into the special cultural differences.

"I have already used some of this information in my classroom. I see where some kids are coming from, and how an environment is such a clash for them. Americans have such a myopic view. Now I see how this African American culture has been suppressed."
